BANKERS WANT TO STABILIZE U. S. DOLLAR

Study Laws Passed by Congress Which May Affect Value of Securities

FAVOR RAILROAD BILL

Give Statistics Showing the Rapid Fluctuation of Value of Money

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1926, Post, Pub. Co.
While Sulphur Springs, West Virginia—Legislation passed and pending in congress was analyzed at the fifty-sixth meeting of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' association of America held here.

Listening to some of the reports of the various committees, the observer is impressed with the intimate interest that has developed on the part of the investment bankers of the country in the activities of the federal government. This comes about, of course, to some extent through the fact that anything which the government does to affect the value of securities offered or about to be offered touches vitally the business of the investment banker.

BANKERS FAVOR RAIL BILL

There was therefore more than passing attention given the analysis by Joseph R. Swan, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, who reviewed what congress and the interstate commerce commission had done with reference to railroad financing and the transportation industry in general. Discussion of the various plans for the consolidation of railroads revealed, for instance, that the subject is engaging the continued interest of investment bankers though, indeed, there is little prospect that any legislation of this kind will be passed at the present session of congress. Satisfaction is expressed here that the railroads and their employees have gotten together on the Watson-Parker bill which is about to become law for this step is hailed as the beginning of an era of industrial peace on the railroads.

REPORT ON SECURITIES

Although most of the committees were concerned here with reports on various types of securities such as municipal, real estate mortgage, power and public utilities, foreign bonds and commercial credits, the various reports by Lawrence Chamberlain of J. G. White & Company, New York, of absorbing interest in that it brought to the attention of the bankers something which committees of congress have been wrestling this session, namely the stabilization of the dollar.

There is no doubt that discussion such as was heard here coupled with the testimony that has been given at Washington to leading economists of the country indicates a rebirth of interest in a subject which for generations has been a puzzle in investment economics.

It has been brought out for instance that by using the index numbers of the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor and taking weighted averages of about 40 commodities, the value of the dollar today is between 60 and 70 cents in purchasing power compared with a dollar taken at par value in 1913. The same dollar would be worth 40 cents in 1920 and two dollars and a half in 1926 and 44 cents in 1925.

These fluctuations would not attract much attention if they came gradually and over a long period of time but it is pointed out that fluctuations since 1913 have vitally affected the income yield from securities within a single generation.

WANT DOLLAR STABILIZED

How can the dollar be stabilized? No plans were advanced or endorsed here as the subject is still being considered from the standpoint of effects and no concrete scheme has been endorsed. Some economists think that ultimately the solution will be found through the cooperation of the leading governments of the world or regulating the gold supply. It is a reform that will meet, in fact is meeting, with considerable skepticism but just as the change in the nation's banking system accomplished through the Federal Reserve board was an evidence of the belief on the part of economists that the evolution of commerce and trade required vital changes in past methods of doing business, so also in the stabilization of the dollar being regarded as requiring specific treatment. Someone with a bent for statistics has figured out for instance that in a certain ten year period in recent years the interest income of an individual with one thousand dollars was entirely wiped out as well as nearly $200 of principal because of the fluctuations of the dollar's purchasing power.

STATE'S DUTY TO KEEP ORDER, COOLIDGE SAYS

President Urges National Unity in Speech at Virginia Celebration

Williamsburg, Va., (AP)—President Coolidge Saturday called upon the states to discharge their functions so faithfully that there can be a contraction, instead of an extension of the authority of the federal government.

Speaking at the sesquicentennial observance of the adoption of the Virginia resolutions declaring for the independence of the American colonies, he said that there can be a contraction, instead of an extension of the authority of the federal government. "While asserting that liberty cannot be divorced from law, self government and 'no plan of centralization has ever been adopted which did not result in bureaucracy, tyranny, inflexibility, reaction, and decline,' the President coupled with his appeal to the states a plea for national unity and the elimination of actions based upon geographical lines under a system of government based upon majority rule.

URGES NATIONAL UNITY

Discussing in this connection, an element of recent development he said: "Direct primaries and direct elections bring to bear upon the political fortunes of public officials the greatly disproportionate influence of organized minorities. Artificial propaganda, paid agitators, selfish interests, all impinge upon members of legislative bodies to force them to respect special elements rather than the great body of their constituency. When they are successful minority rule is established, and the result is an extravagance on the part of the government which is ruinous to the people and a multiplicity of regulations and restrictions for the conduct of all kinds of necessary business, which becomes little less than oppressive. Not only is this one country, but we must keep all its different parts in harmony by refusing to adopt legislation which is not for the general welfare."

"The President declared it was impossible to put too much emphasis on the necessity of making all political action of the federal government harmonize with the principle of national unity.

"For many years," he said, "this course has been greatly impeded from the fact that those who substantially think alike have, so often, been unable to act alike. Our country ought to be done with all sectional divisions and all actions based upon geographical lines. Washington warned us against that danger in his Farewell address.

"It would be difficult to suggest

STERLING SELLS AT GOLD PARITY

Reaches Standard $4.865 for First Time Since 1914

New York—(AP)—Sterling exchange sold at gold parity—$4.865 in the New York Market Saturday for the first time since 1914.

Cables on London were quoted at $4.865 soon after the opening that figure previously having been reached in the London market.

While the return of sterling to parity was regarded as only a question of time when Great Britain returned to the gold standard last year, the sudden attainment of the goal came somewhat as a surprise to local dealers in foreign exchange. In some quarters the rise in sterling was regarded as an indication of a heavy transfer of funds from Italy, France, Belgium and other countries with depreciated currencies to England and the United States where the gold standard is effective. In other quarters the buying was attributed to British government sources as part of a plan to attract gold to that country.

French francs sank to a new low record at 3.014 cents and Belgian francs were 4 points lower around 3.01 cents, but the Italian lire rallied several points to 3.434 cents.

WARSAW WILL BURY DEAD IN HUGE SERVICE

American Woman Directs Work of Caring for Hundreds Who Are Wounded

Warsaw Poland—(AP)—The battle smoke cleared away Saturday and Warsaw enshrouded in mourning buried the uncounted dead who fell during the military revolt in a great public funeral. Several hundred wounded in the various hospitals set the toll of casualties.

Ghostly calm reigns over the city. All the public utilities are working normally, however, except the street cars, which are awaiting the repairing of the torn up streets.

Miss Helen Bridge, American woman in charge of the Warsaw nursing school, is heroically directing the work of caring for the wounded.

The military revolution in Poland appears to have succeeded. Marshal Pilsudski is not only in complete control of Warsaw but advises received in the capital indicate that the majority of the troops throughout the country have gone over to his cause.

News of these developments came Saturday in the first direct dispatch received from the Associated Press correspondent in Warsaw for the last 48 hours. The fact that the dispatch filed at the Warsaw post office telegraphic station was allowed to come out of the country is significant in itself, showing the restoration of the war facilities, which have been under drastic censorship. The fighting in Warsaw which began Wednesday afternoon the despatch said, ended late Friday afternoon with the capture by the rebels of the Belvedere palace, in which the members of the government had taken refuge.

REBELS TAKE PRESIDENT

Some of the members of the cabinet were able to escape from the city but President Wojciechowski was taken to Marshal Pilsudski. The Marshal has repeatedly declared that his movement was not aimed at the President but at the Vitos cabinet.

Advices from other sources are that Premier Vitos and President Wojciechowski have resigned and that Pilsudski is engaged in forming a new cabinet the coup d'etat has been far more bloodless, according to all reports but accounts of the number of casualties vary. Advices reaching Paris Saturday were that 200 persons were killed and 1,000 wounded in Warsaw during the fighting of Thursday and Friday.

Developments outside the capital are still somewhat obscure. Vienna hears that one military force, still loyal to the government is holding out south of Warsaw but that other troops have been dispersed.

Sensational unconfirmed reports in Prague and Lemberg say the Russians are concentrating a strong division near the Polish frontier and that the Lithuanians have seized the opportunity to attempt the re-annexation of Vilna.

Episcopal Church Conference Decides to Use Money Already Subscribed for Project

Racine—(AP)—The national council of the Protestant Episcopal church in closing at Taylors hall Saturday voted to expend $900,000 of money already subscribed for the construction of the first units of the new St. Lukes hospital at Tokyo, Japan.

It was anticipated that the importance of the international hospital in cementing relations between the United States and Japan is recognized by a group of prominent eastern men who have volunteered to cooperate with the national council in raising funds for the complete project.

Charles N. Lathrop secretary of the department of social service secured the approval of the national council to the creation of the office of commissioner of industries in connection with the service.

KING HORSE HOLDS SWAY AT KENTUCKY

Expect 17 Colts to Start Fifty-second Annual Derby at Louisville

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Take a Chance and Rasual were scratched at 1:30 p. m., reducing the field for the Kentucky derby to 15.

BULLETIN

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—The slightest sprinkle of rain began falling shortly after noon Saturday, some four hours before the running of the Kentucky derby, but at the weather bureau it was said that it was "mistling" and probably would be cloudy all afternoon, but without rain.

BULLETIN

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—All of the 17 colts entered for the fifty-second Kentucky derby Saturday afternoon accepted the challenge when official scratch time arrived at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Owners who may be doubtful about the chances of their horses have until 20 minutes before post time to scratch them.

Thirty-five thousand visitors, the estimate has been carefully made by newspapers, came by rail, motorcar, airship and steamboat to get the thrill of the derby which last slightly more than two minutes. The city accommodated every one for a while hotels were full, hundreds of available rooms in private homes remained unrented, the free room service of the Louisville convention and publicity bureau reported Saturday.

Scouring of scratch time can prevent the full field of 17 from starting, according to owners and trainers, who were at the track at daylight to put the finishing touches to months of careful, painstaking care and training.

Lowering clouds at noon gave a threatening aspect to the weather but the weather bureau has said "it is not likely to rain."

The advance on the downs began early and shortly after noon had assumed enormous proportions, and long before the first race at 1:45 p. m. the massive stands and spacious arcades promised to be crowded.

The management has opened special pari-mutuel machines to sell derby betting tickets only. Early indications were that the play would be great.

ATTENDANCE AT LOCAL SCHOOLS SHOWS INCREASE

Average Attendance at Senior High School is About 96 Per Cent

Attendance at Appleton public schools has been jumping the last two or three months until now the average is well above 90 per cent. At the senior high school the attendance has averaged about 96 per cent of the 150 students enrolled, according to Herbert H. Heible, principal. Some difficulty in high school attendance was experienced the first semester as there was no method of punishing chronic offenders.

A promise was made to high school students that everyone who was able to show a record with no unexcused absences or tardiness at the end of the semester would have three points added to his or her general semester average. This system worked well as far as most of the students were concerned and attendance was boosted to well over 90 per cent. There were still about 75 students, however, who were negligent about coming to school regularly and in reaching classes on time. These students took the attitude that inasmuch as they had missed the chance of getting additional points added to their grade because of one unexcused absence any further absence or tardiness would not affect them.

Therefore it was found necessary to abolish the system of rewarding pupils for regular attendance and put in its place a system of punishment for chronic offenders in absence and tardiness. The present plan calls for the deducting of two points from the quarter grade of each student in every subject in which he or she has had an unexcused absence or tardiness from class. If a legitimate excuse is presented the work may be taken up and no points will be taken away from the grade.

This system has proved effective and has raised attendance at the senior high school to the high point of 96 per cent. The most frequent reasons for remaining out of school are illness and necessity to help parents at home. Mr. Heible has sent letters to all parents asking that they cooperate with school authorities in maintaining the attendance record by insisting that the children attend school.

In the grade schools attendance is averaging about 90 per cent, according to B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools. During the latter months many children were kept out of school by the epidemic of measles that spread over the entire city.

SCHOOL STUDIES ENGLISH COURSE

Will Determine Needs of English as Taught in Schools Today

Appleton high school is one of a number of schools throughout the country cooperating with the National Council of English teachers in making an exhaustive study of English as it is taught in high schools today. The purpose of the investigation is to determine the needs of learning in language and literature and make adjustments in the schools which will conform to these needs.

Letters and questionnaires to be used in the investigation have been received from George Pendleton, chairman of the council and professor of English at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tenn.

To secure a number of varied viewpoints, questionnaires on the study of English have been filled out by Herbert H. Heible, principal of the high school, Adela Klumbe, head of the English department, Josephine Haden, a student at the school and Claire Kean, a graduate. By this questionnaire method it is hoped to find out the proportion of emphasis placed on each of the four different types of English, which are written, spoken, reading and listening.

Eight of the contracts are for work on 32.27 miles of highways. $615,510.55 of the money to be spent for the construction of 19 miles of concrete road 20 feet wide at an average cost of $32,250 a mile. The other contract is for a bridge costing $55,538.40.

The largest single contract is for the paving with concrete of 8.67 miles of State Trunk Highway No. 20 and 61 between Monroe and Juda, in Green county. The contractor's bid on this work is $309,576.44, and average of $35,106 per mile.

Earnings of general departments or compensation for services rendered by state officials, represented 9.3 per cent of the total revenue for 1925, 9.8 per cent for 1924 and 14.1 per cent for 1915.

"Business and non business licenses constituted 25.8 per cent of the total revenue for 1925, 22.8 per cent for 1924, and 18.4 per cent for 1915.

"Receipts from business licenses consist chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies and from sales tax on gasoline, while those from nonbusiness licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges.

"The increase in the percentage of receipts from business and nonbusiness licenses was principally due to the levy of a tax on gasoline.

"For 1925 the assessed valuation of property in Wisconsin subject to ad valorem taxation was $5,448,937,717; the amount of state taxes levied was $15,067,064; and the per capita levy, $5.41.

POOR BATTERY HOOKUP CAUSE OF RADIO ILLS

Experts Estimate 85 Per Cent of Faulty Sets Due to Incorrect Connections

Radio repair experts find that approximately 85 per cent of the faulty sets they are called to inspect fail to work because of an incorrect battery hookup or because of an imperfect tube.

Although the battery hookup is plainly marked both on the set and batteries, thousands of radio owners find it difficult to make the right connections. This is chiefly due to a prevalent idea that a plus and minus must be connected together wherever possible. People have heard that it takes a plus and minus to complete an electric circuit. However, this idea becomes hazy and obscure. Radio set owners get the most startling results due to novel and original hookups based on the plus and minus idea.

REJUVENATION
The second important troublemaker in your set are the tubes. Tube trouble can usually be distinguished by a peculiar howling noise in the set. This is different from the squeaks and squealings usually caused by run down or wrongly connected batteries.

If all the tubes in your set are old, you may try rejuvenation by disconnecting the "B" batteries, turning on the "A" batteries and starting your set in operation. Some radio experts advise disconnecting the "B" batteries, exchanging the connections on the "A" battery so that the negative wire goes to the plus terminal and the plus wire goes to the negative terminal. However, tube rejuvenation has as yet not proved satisfactory to a valuable extent.

TUBE TEST
If you want to find the tube in your set that is howling, get an extra tube to perform the test. Open your set and take out the first tube. Replace it with the new tube. If the howling stops, you know the first tube was bad. If the howling continues, take out the extra tube and put the first tube back in place.

Continue this operation with every tube in the set until you locate the howler. The howling tube should be marked or destroyed so that it will not find its way into the set again.

BARTHOLMESS LIKES BEST MILITARY ROLE

New York — (AP) — When ever news spreads that Richards Bartholmess is looking for material for a new photograph, speculation as to whether he will have the role of a soldier, sailor or marine begins in the studio. Ever since he was a child, Bartholmess has had a strong predilection for things military. He went to a military academy early in life and since he entered the movies has had the principal part in a half dozen pictures of military bearing.

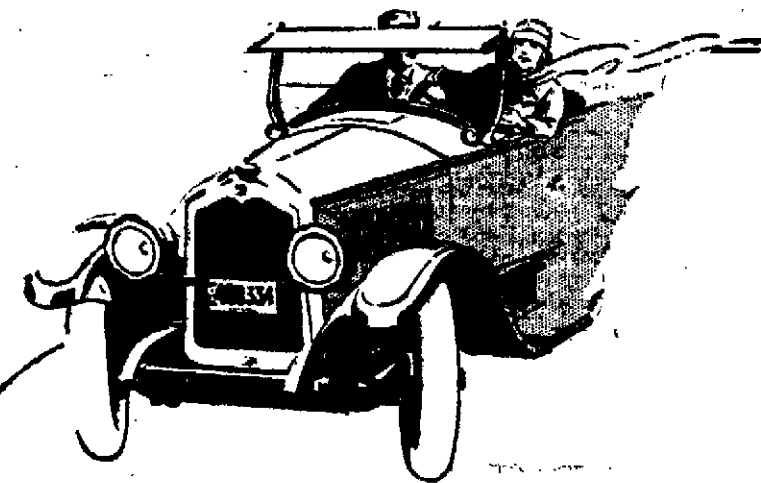

Bartholmess has just finished making "Ransom's Polly" for Inspiration and his role was that of a cavalry officer.

Do you know why BUICK 4-wheel brakes are mechanical

Buick 4-wheel brakes are built on the same sound mechanical principle as the two-wheel brakes you always have used.

The brake on the outside front wheel releases when turning a corner. The outside front wheel needs to turn in a larger circle to avoid skidding and Buick brakes let it turn.

And the operating parts of Buick brakes are steel — drop forgings — the most durable construction known to engineers.

For safety's sake, and for easier driving, pick Buick and Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes.

MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT, C. C. STRESSES

Corbett and Koffend Return from National Meeting at Washington

Less government in business and more business in government was the theme stressed at the fourteenth annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, May 10 to 13 in Washington, D. C., according to Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of Appleton Chamber of Commerce who with Joseph Koffend, Jr., president of the local chamber, attended the sessions at the capitol.

About 3,500 delegates and visitors from associations of commerce in all parts of the United States were present.

Awards in the national fire waste contest in which Appleton was entered were presented at the general session Tuesday morning. Battle Creek, Mich., won first prize in the contest for the cities in the class to which Appleton belongs. First prize for cities of all classes and for its own group was won by a small town in Georgia. Governor Clifford M. Walker of Georgia was one of the speakers in the fire waste contest session.

Wednesday afternoon was turned over to five group discussion meetings. They were on domestic distribution, foreign commerce, insurance, transportation and communication and natural resources production. Mr. Corbett attended the domestic distribution group while Mr. Koffend attended the insurance discussion meeting. At the domestic distribution meeting O. H. Cheney, New York City, spoke on Principles Which Should Be Applied to Merchandising by Installment Selling. Mr. Cheney warned against the dangers of the prevalent payment by installment plan in his talk. E. M. West, also of New York City, made a plea for a domestic distribution census in order that merchants might know whether a state or over production existed and would be able to tell what quantities of goods were in transportation and how much was stored in the country's warehouses.

On Wednesday morning, John O'Leary, president of the national chamber of commerce, entertained the secretaries at an 8 o'clock breakfast. This was followed by the president's annual address in which Mr. O'Leary stated that the work done by the national chamber during the last year had not been of a spectacular nature but had been progressive and consistent throughout with sound business judgment behind it.

Four discussion group luncheons were held Wednesday afternoon. They were on the subjects of agriculture, civic development, finance, and agriculture. Mr. Corbett attended the meeting on civic development while Mr. Koffend attended the meeting on finance.

PROTEST PAVING ON S. SUPERIOR-ST

Council Committee Undecided
on Program for Improvement

Proposed paving of S. Superior-st. from W. College-ave to the Post Crescent alley was considered by the streets and bridges committee at a meeting Friday afternoon. Several property owners voiced strenuous objections to the proposal, and no decision was reached by the committee.

The street department was ordered to complete necessary filling and draining at the tourist campsite at Alicia park and to erect signs directing tourists to it. This work probably will be completed next week.

The matter of erecting a toolhouse at the fairgrounds to house the tools of the street department likewise was considered, but no recommendation on this proposal was made.

While wrestling in the road at an intersection near a Hollandtown garage about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon Bernard Brocktrup of Kaukauna, route 4, and Benjamin VandeYacht of Hollandtown, were struck and seriously injured by an automobile. Vision of the driver was obstructed by a truck in the road, and the driver did not see the youths until it was too late to stop or avoid them. VandeYacht suffered three broken ribs and a ruptured kidney, while Brocktrup's jaw was fractured. It was discovered at St. Elizabeth hospital here, to which they were taken. Saturday morning both men were reported to be improving.

LEGION NAMES SATURDAY, MAY 29, POPPY DAY

Poppies Will Be Offered for Sale in Cities Throughout
State

May 29 will be observed as "American Legion Poppy Day" throughout Wisconsin in accord with nationwide plans and 400,000 poppies, artificial duplicates of those that bloomed in Flanders Field, will be offered for sale by the state department of the legion. H. L. Plummer, state commander, announced while in Appleton recently.

In every city, village and hamlet where there is an American Legion post, and there is one in 280 cities and towns, the poppies will be sold, Mr. Plummer said.

The replica of the little red flower reminiscent of the battlefields of France were fashioned by Federal soldiers who now lie in the hospital at Mendota, the National Soldiers Home, Milwaukee, and Resthaven, Waukesha. Soldiers at Mendota made 30,000 poppies for the Wisconsin observance, Mr. Plummer disclosed.

All the funds raised by the sale will be used, Mr. Plummer said, for relief work of the Legion and auxiliary.

Extra — Tonight only from 7 to 9 o'clock, 24 hats taken from regular stock, two hours only at $1.95.

Today's TRAVELOGUE A Minute a Day Down a Wonderful Highway

B

THE FIRST MINUTE: We board the bus or our own motors at the Conway Hotel, the starting point begin our trip South on Oneida Street. Instantly we are in the heart of the city. Retail stores are agog with busy shoppers. We pass the city's busiest corner—the veritable "heart of the city" where College Avenue and Oneida Street cross, and all directions, and house numbers begin. We observe every city convenience, restaurants, street railways, depots, churches, clubs, lodge halls, police protection, modern fire apparatus, theatres, the library and recreation places. On this trip we will never be far from any of these advantages. We continue down Oneida street, descend a little hill, pass the modern part-time trades school for working boys and girls, and presently we are passing among Appleton's huge industries—the places where men work.

We begin the Second Minute of this interesting and convincing trip at this point, Tomorrow. Be with us!

THE SECOND MINUTE: We observe as we drive slowly along, our speedometer registering 15 miles per hour constantly, the proximity of homes in this direction to all of the city advantages enumerated before. This street divides the city in two. Any location on the street is central to churches, depots, and all city facilities. Persons living on or very near Oneida Street enjoy transportation facilities not enjoyed anywhere else in the city. It is the one street which combines fast inter-city electric lines, motor coaches and pavement for ones own motors. We are in the Fourth Ward, a literal community of home owners. Beautiful residences, carefully kept lawns rise along side modern bungalows and cottages owned by working men. Here and there families are planting their own gardens. Vegetables have been particularly successful in the rich soil of this section. We are drawing entirely away from industry, and smokestacks, though the quick transportation keeps us yet very close to them, and we are entering a built-up, and valuable residence district. We are now 2 minutes distant from the Conway Hotel our starting point. We resume our trip here tomorrow. Be with us.

THE THIRD MINUTE takes us into Appleton's restricted, and zoned residence district. Here and there a few small shops, but very few, and no new shops can be opened under the city zone ordinance. Beautiful lawns terraced and landscaped, lead to delightful homes. This is Appleton, a city of homes and of home-owners. Due ahead looms magnificent St. Elizabeth's hospital. Already we are nearing the south city limits. The first three minutes of our travelogue has brought us from the busy centers of trade and all possible city attractions down picturesque highway, continuously built up first with retailers, shops, public buildings, churches and schools, then with places where men work, and then the homes which men own. We have not traveled yet a minute.

TOMORROW the fourth and last minute of this travelogue which will not only interest you in Appleton but, —Don't miss it.

THE POST-CRESCENT'S PROGRAM FOR A GREATER APPLETON

City Manager Form of Government.
Greater Representation for Appleton on County Board.
A systematic plan of Park and Playground extensions and improvements.

IMPROVE PIERCE PARK

Perhaps the principal reason why it is so difficult to secure the approval of the common council to the proposal that the city be bonded for $50,000 to finance Pierce park improvement is that the city has but one small improved park at this time. People in Appleton do not yet realize what a large well equipped, well planned park means to them and because they cannot visualize a park of this kind, many citizens are opposed to the project.

Other cities have had the same experience. People generally are opposed to parks and park improvement until they have a few parks—then they can't get enough of them. Appleton has had a little of this experience. Less than ten years ago the question of purchasing Pierce park was submitted to the people at a referendum and it was voted down. A few months later the council purchased the property in spite of the evident disapproval of the populace as indicated at the polls. It would be hard to find anyone today who is sorry that the park has been purchased. In its unimproved condition it has already been a source of delight and recreation to thousands of persons.

But its usefulness and value can be increased many fold by a program of systematic improvement as outlined by the board of park commissioners. Right now this beautiful park site is little more than a wooded picnic ground. There has been no pretense toward improvement, the property is in pretty much the same condition as when the city bought it.

It is almost a waste of money to permit the park to remain in that condition. The only way the people will get their money's worth out of it is to carry out the park board's plan. This plan involves the construction of roadways, lagoons, baseball and tennis courts, band stands and planting of flowers and shrubs. The improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

The board now receives $15,000 a year from the council for park maintenance and it has been demonstrated that this is sufficient not only to maintain the parks but also to pay the interest and retire the principal of the proposed bond issue.

Some of the opposition to the proposed bond issue is based on the assumption that the city is dangerously close to its bonding limit. It is true that the city now is bonded more heavily than ever before in its history, due to the big school construction program, but it is no where near a situation where an additional bond of $50,000 will be dangerous. Waterworks bonds are being retired at a vigorous rate now and the city's bonding limit is growing every year. An additional bond issue of $50,000 will not impair the city's credit to any extent.

The argument that Pierce park should be improved piece-meal out of the park board's surplus each year is met by the board's statement that the improvements contemplated will cost from $10,000 to $12,000 more if spread over a period of years than if done at once and while the improvements are being made the city will be without a park. The park board proposes to concentrate its first effort on Pierce park because it is the most advantageously located of the city's park properties and after it is completed attention will be given to the other recreation spots. It is to be hoped that the city council will provide the funds with which to carry out this much needed improvement.

RAIL LABOR MEDIATION

The opposition which blockaded last session's Howell bill to destroy the railroad labor board having melted strangely away, congress has now passed its successor, the Watson-Parker measure. The two varied principally in degree and method, not in purpose. So heavy a vote favored the Watson-Parker bill in both houses that President Coolidge would probably be unable to stop its enactment even if he cared to exercise his veto.

Yet the facts concerning this bill are anything but reassuring to those who believe that as a necessary service for the feeding and fueling of the nation and the conduct of American business the railroad utility is vested with a public interest so vital that not even railroad labor should be spared regulation.

In effect the bill says: "Throughout past years it has been assumed that the public was the third party and the most important party in railroad labor disputes, and that its voice as an active and concerned participant should have a vote along with labor and ownership in the fixing of just rates. The old bill hadn't enough teeth in it and the public couldn't hold its grip. But instead of putting in the teeth, we are going to drop the whole assumption—that the public is concerned. We are going to take the third party out, surrender the principle of direct public interest, and abolish the railroad labor board."

In place of this board is set up a comparatively feeble system of mediation and voluntary arbitration, and a "constructed" promise on the part of employees not to strike for the thirty days that a presidential commission is "investigating," nor for thirty days thereafter. If the teeth in the old bill creating the railroad. If the labor board were false teeth and didn't properly work, here surely are the toothless gums.

MEN WHO PAY UP

Mark Twain, Sir Walter Scott, General Grant—three great men of honor, who mortgaged months or years of life to the paying off of debts for which they were not legally obligated—may be greeting in the shadowy hereafter a new accession to their ranks. He was Jacob Bunn, quiet business man of Springfield, Ill., who died this week.

For two score years Mr. Bunn, president of a bank, a watch company and a meter factory, determinedly led his family in accumulating surplus with which a million dollars lost to depositors of his fathers bank when it failed in 1878 was finally repaid last Christmas. No legal bond was upon the son. The use of the million would have made life tremendously easier for the Bunn family. The sacrifice of this sum was a sacrifice to personal and family honor and arose solely out of the character of the man.

We suspect that there are unsung Jacob Bunn's in every town and city. Their code of ethics has plenty of admiration, but too little emulation, in the business community. The very publicity Mr. Bunn's act has won for him at his death proves that a rigid sense of business obligation is new, a matter for pleased surprise and not a commonplace. It would be better if the message of self-respect and conscience instead of the cold letter of the law came to be the standard of commercial honor.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN
The shades are drawn down and the room is kept cool. All's quiet; mere whispers are said. A wee little youngster is missing from school, for illness has sent it to bed.
The household is ready to wait on the tot who is propped on a pillow or two. No matter what sickness the youngster has got, little favors we're anxious to do.
Ere dad goes to work, he will stop for a while; maybe put a cold cloth on the head of the child, who gives thanks with a sweet little smile. And then, there comes breakfast in bed.
Mom rushes around, as the day rolls along and she answers each little request. Perhaps, there's some pinking, and lullaby song, that will help the wee one to rest.
All mothers and dads are created alike, in the service an ailing child brings. For where, tell me where, has there ever been the like who can't play on our sympathy strings?
If all vacation cards told the truth many of them would read, "Having a fine time, glad you are not here."
Perhaps the most grim of all the grim reapers is the new golfer.
Mussolini plays a violin, but he does more than fiddle around.
With so many explorers heading for the north pole it ought to be a good location for a hot dog stand.
What exasperates a man more than hitting a pedestrian with his new car and getting his tender all bent?

RANDOM NOTES ON COSMESIS

Many people are annoyed by little dilated venules about the cheeks on the sides of the nose. In some cases this is only a feature of rosacea, but in just as many cases there is no particular "rosacea" or acne rosacea associated with the little red lines. About the only way to get rid of these "broken blood vessels" can be rendered inconspicuous is by galvanic destruction with a fine needle, although the high frequency treatment will sometimes improve appearances. The medical term for these dilated venules is telangiectasia. We give a reassuring name to any trifling condition we can't do very much for as a matter of policy.

Milium is the name for wee small cystic whitish masses which appear most commonly under the eyes of women. They seldom become larger than a pin head. If they seem a blemish they may be obliterated by puncture and expression of their solid contents.

Xanthoma—now we're getting reckless with the medical terms—is sort of an enlarged and expansive milium, wide yellowish plates embedded in the skin often seen in the skin of the eyelids. Sometimes about the mouth. One of the best ways of obliterating xanthoma is to touch each lesion with a fine pointed electrocautery. Sometimes patches of xanthoma appear on the palms or soles, and for the obliteration or removal of the individual patches in these situations one of the best things is the well known corn remedy—30 grains, half a dram, of salicylic acid dissolved in half an ounce of flexible collodion. This is to be painted on the patch once daily for a week or longer when the patch will soften and come away.

The same corn remedy, by the way, is not only useful for ordinary corns and calluses on the soles, but also for soft corns if the toes can be kept separated and the space between them dry. The usefulness of the corn remedy does not end there. It is one of the best remedies for single warts on the hands or any other surface except the face. A wart or similar lesion about the face should never be trifled with—the face deserves the best surgical skill its owner can afford.

Speaking of warts, they come without apparent cause and they go without rhyme or reason, so let us not grow excited over any mysterious remedies which may be recommended for warts. I have no great relish for danger nor do I particularly like to suffer pain or discomfort. My own preference for a wart or two, in any situation, would be surgical excision under a local anesthetic. If there were a crop of many warts, I'd like a few whiffs of ether, or something and a quick extirpation with the curet—scraping the warts away. A few exposures to X-ray will produce a reaction sufficient to remove a crop of warts and leave no trace; I'd take a chance on X-ray treatment if there were no other to be had. Warts may be destroyed by freezing with carbon dioxide snow. Chemical caustics are bad medicine for warts. Much better to cauterize them with the high frequency spark.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Acid Condition
I was troubled for years with an acid condition which rendered me unable to eat oranges, or drink lemonade. I wrote you and you advised persistence in eating just those things. I followed your advice and suffered terribly for a week, but after that I had no further trouble and have enjoyed oranges and lemonade ever since. Now I want to ask about buttermilk, a drink of which I am very fond, but whenever I take it freely I become sick at the stomach, vomit, get a terrible headache and lose all strength. (Miss S. M. M.)
Answer—I can only say that citric acid (in oranges, lemons, grapefruit) is oxidized into carbonic acid, which combines with sodium or potassium to form alkaline carbonates in the blood, and hence these fruits render the blood more alkaline and the urine less acid. Lactic acid, in buttermilk, is not completely oxidized in the blood of some individuals and may therefore increase an acidity of the urine. But it does not seem likely that your difficulty is due to the lactic acid; perhaps you have an spurious diagnosis in any case.

Now, Helen, you're not old enough to vote and you should not ask the president such embarrassing questions.

OUTDOOR LIFE IN AMERICA

Dear Rollo:
The joint congressional postal committee has agreed to restore the one cent rate on post cards. The great American summer sport of wishing-you-were-here, and arrow-points-to-our-room will now come into its own once more.

RAZZING WISCONSIN-AVE

Editor Post-Crescent—The city of Appleton ought to collect a fee from motorists who drive on Wisconsin-ave from Richmond to Lave-st. The city is placing itself in an unfair competition to Waverly beach Jack rabbit. As you drive along Wisconsin-ave you first get the sensation of a Jack rabbit ride, when you ascend over the hill known as the place where the State-st. sewer was constructed last year. If you are lucky that you do not break the springs or an axle on your car, or the rebound does not throw you through the top you will be all set for some more Jack rabbit thrills which may also be called the washboard slide over about 800 chuck holes and trenches until you reach Superior-st. Here you will take the Lake Superior dip which has the same sensation as rowing a boat on Lake Superior on a windy day. Arriving at intersection of Appleton-st. (providing you and your car are all together) and you succeed in the chase, you are in the place where the State-st. sewer was constructed last year. Appleton Couple Married Fifty Years Next Monday

MR. AND MRS. HENRY SCHUETTER

MR. and Mrs. Henry Schuetter, 330 S. Walnut-st., residents of the city of Appleton for more than half a century, will renew their marriage vows at a solemn high mass on the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Monday, May 17. The service will take place at 7:15 at St. Joseph church.

A luncheon for children and grandchildren will be held at 10 o'clock at the Conway hotel after which the couple will be at home to their friends between 3 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at their home. No invitations have been sent.

Henry Schuetter and Miss Mary Schmidt were married at St. Joseph church, Appleton, on May 16, 1876 by the Rev. Father Stern. They have been residents of Appleton all of their married life. Mr. Schuetter was engaged in the tailoring business until 1909 when he retired, turning the business over to his son Karl. Seven children were born to the couple, five of whom are living. They are Karl of Appleton, Mrs. Harry Langlois of Appleton, Robert of Chicago, George of New York and Clara at home.

Mr. Schuetter was born in Capella, Westphalia, Germany, May 8, 1851 and came to America in July, 1870. Immediately after his arrival in Appleton he worked at his trade for C. O. Calaghan and H. A. Phinney and in 1871 he accepted a position as assistant cutter for C. G. Mugridge for two years. Thinking to give up tailoring he worked as a clerk in Clark and Edward dry goods store but returned to the tailoring business as a cutter for H. A. Van Stratum and Gabe Ulman until in April 1883 when he started business for himself.

The shop now conducted by his son occupies the building where the father was in business for a quarter of a century.

Mrs. Schuetter was born in Hatzendorf, near Coblenz, Germany, Jan. 17, 1852. She came to America with her parents when she was five years of age. The family lived on a farm at Woodville, near Sherwood, for 10 or 15 years and then moved to Appleton. Mrs. Schuetter has lived in this city since 1867.

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE OWN WITH PRIDE—

The most significant phase of the growing preference for Oldsmobile Six lies in the confidence with which the car is bought—the result of surpassing standards of quality and the precision with which every detail is carried out.

Bought with confidence, Oldsmobile Six is owned with pride, because of its brilliant beauty and sparkling performance. At the wheel you immediately sense some unusual factor—a fundamental difference you can know only by driving.

No car has ever more truly merited the public preference which day by day is swinging more and more to Oldsmobile.

The Three Dimensions

A human life has three dimensions, just as has a building. Our physical development determines how long we will live. Our mental growth regulates the breadth or scope of our interest and activity.

Length and breadth alone, however, do not make a building. They furnish only the foundation on which the super-structure is to be erected. Height is necessary to complete the building; to give it volume, individuality, character and quality.

So our spiritual development lifts our life out of the dead level of mere existence. It regulates the height to which our life structure will reach. It determines our personality, and governs the amount and character of our achievements.

From the church alone can certain essential soul-building materials be secured. The height to which our souls attain will depend greatly on the extent to which we draw upon this source.

Go to church often if you would grow to be a greater man.

Let The Last Be The Best

WHEN one has departed extend to that one the best final consideration and attention possible.

Not necessarily have it elaborate nor yet expensively done; but most becoming in care and the selection of that care.

With such thought in mind Brettschneider suggests its services: higher than usual in every service respect; yet not at all higher in price, likely lower.

The best is a duty to a departed one: again suggesting Brettschneider services, for every reason why.

Plant Roses In Gardens In Spring

Any arable soil will grow roses. Theoretically, and according to the books which have until the past few years been accepted as the law, the best soil for roses is a heavy loam, must be heavily fertilized, and must be two, three and even four feet deep. This "bookum" has been pretty thoroughly disproved, and it will simplify the whole situation to say that good roses can easily be grown in any soil that will raise good potatoes or any good garden crop. It does need to be dug to two spades of depth, and if it is extremely heavy clay, it is better to have it ameliorated with enough lighter soil so that it may be worked, or if it is extremely light sand it may need the same sort of material for fertility.

The time to plant roses is just the earliest moment in the Spring, which may mean in the Middle States the middle of March, in the Southern States the middle of February, in the colder North the middle of April and even into early May. It can not be too early if the soil is actually thawed, and workable, and for much of the country Autumn planting is even better.

Get dormant outdoor field-grown budded plants if possible. These have had really three years from the seed of the understock on which they are probably budded, and actually two years of life in the open ground. They have not been depleted of strength, or coddled in any greenhouse. They should come, as I have said, dormant, which means leafless, and without any evidence that their buds have started to grow.

With a sharp knife or pruning shears cut back the tops to not more than three or four eyes or buds on each shoot and to not more than three shoots. It will break your heart to do this, but your heart will mend, whereas these long shoots left on, into which the injured roots in strange ground are expected to pump life, are almost sure to languish and do less well than otherwise. The roots need only to have the bruised ends cut off cleanly. They need always to be kept moist, and if as one works with them they are dipped into a pail of water so that they go wet into the ground, that is better.

These hybrid tea-roses, can well be planted from twelve to eighteen inches apart, according to the huskiness of the plants when received. They ought not to be in locations where the roots of trees or shrubs will seriously interfere with them; though they do enjoy a little shade and shelter.

In planting, presuming that the ground has been thoroughly broken up and made fine, the rose plant is set down on to a little cone, with the roots spread out. Then the best of the soil at hand is sifted about and in contact with the roots (never any manure, fresh or otherwise in direct contact, please), and it is all pressed firmly, ending either with the pounding of the earth around the roots by the end of the shovelhandle or by the heel of the shoe.

Plant the rose a little deeper than it appears to have grown in the nursery—deep enough in any case to cover the junction between the top and the understock at least an inch, and preferably nearly two inches. Shallow planting is an invitation to "suckers" and to failure; too deep planting is an induction to a rose grave. So treated, and if the ground is dry, with a thorough watering that will soak the soil, the plants will be in readiness to feel the warmth of the Spring and to respond.

WASH SOILED CLOTHES LINE IN SOAPSUDS

When the clothes line has accidentally been left out of doors, exposed to the dirt and dust of the air, it becomes almost impossible to clean it by rubbing with a cloth. And there is nothing more irritating than to take down a supposedly clean washing only to

BY HENRI RENDEL.
The sophistication of the American woman is acquiring in clothes is how much better illustrated than in her choice of morning attire.

Time was when a woman devoted much attention to her scrub for "dress" occasions, such as party dresses, dinner gowns and other apparel for which she was reasonably sure of some spectacular exploitation. She visioned herself superbly in silks and satins, but her clothes consciousness was but too keenly aroused as she gave no thought to the sort of a picture she made when she went forth by morning "dick" for shopping, marketing, or any of the activities that make up a woman's life by day.

CLOTHES NOW SMART

To her mind, these occasions were unimportant, sartorially speaking. Today no hour of the day is neglected. There is no hour for which fashion has not given complete attention to her needs. For lounging, for day, for sport, for afternoon or for evening, there is the faultless outfit. And nowhere do clothes reflect more complete and studied smartness than in day clothes—they are chic, of elegant material, and marked by the most careful attention to detail.

Many foreigners have commented upon the fact that the American woman really wears her day clothes with more distinction than her evening gowns.

The three importations photographed today substantiate my statements, and show the day frock at its best. Most striking is the printed silk from Cherbourg with its pleated upstanding collar that resembles an Elizabethan ruff. The skirt is composed of three accordion pleated ruffles, and the sleeves and lower portion of the blouse are also pleated. Added touches of smartness are the patent leather belt and the white crepe de chine tie.

Lanvin created the polka dot model—very blue in color with a plain little yoke like that of a Norfolk jacket in both the back and front. From this yoke to the bottom of the skirt are bands of polka dotted crepe de chine. The sleeves are also thus banded and a smart jabot is formed of the figured material. A cunning red tie of grain ribbon is added with true French simplicity to the jabot, and a bright red belt of patent leather carries out the red idea.

PLEATED RUFFLE FEATURE

Such a frock may be worn all day and has youthfulness, smartness and casualness—which every day frock should have.

The three-piece outfit is from Chanel and is in shades of green and blue. The coat and skirt are of blue crepe, and the blouse is of green silk crepe, as is the lining of the short jacket.

An uneven box pleated ruffle is a feature of the short little skirt and the combination of colors is one of Paris' latest whims. Apparently Parisiennes are tiring of the one-tone effect and are gaining variety by color combination as well as new lines.

find streaks across all the articles where they have hung over the line. The first impulse is to throw the clothes line away and get a new one. Many people follow this plan, partly out of sheer disgust and partly because they don't know anything that can be done to restore the old line.

If you have a washing machine it is very simple to run in some hot water, add a handful of chip-ped laundry soap, throw in the line, and run the machine for 5 or 10 minutes. Pour off the suds, add rinsing water, run the machine a few more minutes, and remove the line to the air to dry.

If you don't have a machine, soak the line in a tub of suds for several hours. Rinse it thoroughly and hang up to dry.

NOW MORNING FROCK IS GIVEN A PLACE IN THE FRONT ROW MUCH CONSIDERATION GIVEN TO DRESS FOR MORNING

Three-piece outfit in blue and green, and a printed silk with one of the new ruff collars.

Lanvin combines blue silk and polka dots in this attractive day frock.

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, crisp rye toast, peanut butter, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked lima beans, brown bread, cottage cheese and carrot salad, oatmeal drop cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Smothered veal steak, baked potatoes, jellyed asparagus salad, whole wheat bread, rhubarb meringue pudding, milk, coffee.

In some homes veal is seldom served on the theory that it's an indigestible food. Now an authority on foods and their digestibility tells us that veal "is no more indigestible than fish or chicken or beef. In fact, in France it is a delicacy given to invalids as we give chicken in this country." So when veal is in market and cheaper than chicken we may serve it without misgivings.

JELLED ASPARAGUS SALAD
Two bunches asparagus, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 1-4 cup cold water, 2 cups veal or chicken broth, 1 tablespoon minced carrot, 1 tablespoon minced celery, 1 slice onion, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 sprigs parsley, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Wash and scrape asparagus and cook until tender. Cool. Add carrot, celery, onion, salt, sugar and parsley to meat broth and simmer fifteen minutes. Strain through cheese cloth, reheat, and add gelatine softened in cold water and lemon juice. Let stand until cool and pour into a shallow pan or mold. When beginning to set add asparagus in neat rows arranged in such a way that the vegetable will not be broken in serving. When chilled and firm cut in squares and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

If any water is left when cooking asparagus it should be added to the broth and the amount of broth decreased in proportion.

SAVE THE CARPETS

Your floor rugs should be cleaned thoroughly at frequent intervals to prevent moths. Pay particular attention to seams which are excellent breeding places for these obnoxious pests.

FASHION HINTS

JABOT TRIMMING

Many of the silk frocks designed for afternoon have large, soft revers in front that give a jabot effect.

NEWEST LINE

The bloused back is one of the important details of the mode both in frocks and in coats.

IRREGULAR HEMLINE

The scalloped hemline is not only smart for evening in pastel colors, but for day in black or navy blue frocks that have simple lines.

FOR THE TAILLEUR

Some of the smartest new tailored blouses have pleated bosoms and tiny bow ties of black ribbon, such as a man wears with his dinner coat.

SHORTER BY THE DAY

The skirt of today scarcely does more than cover the garter, and frequently it doesn't do that. Fourteen inches from the floor is a conservative length.

FOR DAY FROCKS

The combination of taffeta and georgette crepe becomes daily more popular, particularly in black and navy blue for day frocks.

FOOTWEAR CHANGES

Snake skin and alligator skin seem to have left the other animals out of the running when it comes to shoe leather. And kid models are more often than not banded with these mottled leathers, to compromise with the mode.

COLORS BAGS

Colored luggage is sponsored by the mode and we find dressing cases, bags and hat boxes in bright colored leathers as well as tan or black, and in black bound with colors.

ROUGH SILKS

The rougher silks such as rajah and shantung make the most fetching jumper costumes for sport, and take as naturally to colorful scarfs and fancy kerchiefs as the well-known duck does to water.

DO YOU KNOW AS MUCH AS YOUR CAT?

She's a knowing cat.

She asks for little—just her meals, a saucer of milk and a place in the sun. She gets plenty of sleep and exercise. She never worries, never frets. What is the result? Such vitality and resistance that we say, "Cats have nine lives."

What does your cat do when she is not well? She eats catnip, if she can find it. She eats grass and certain green plants to which her instinct leads her.

Your cat takes herbs for a tonic. Did you ever stop to think that Old Mother Nature, who supplies the herbs necessary to your cat's health, has also provided the herbs necessary to your own well-being? You don't have to hunt for them as the cat does. The herbs you need are skillfully blended and compounded in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, an old-fashioned tonic that will help to restore your energy.

Feels Better Now

Mrs. Gust Green of 401 Lincoln Park Boulevard, Rockford, Illinois, writes: "I was weak and run-down but the Vegetable Compound has helped me and I feel better now. I recommend it to all women who need more strength."

For more than fifty years this medicine has been taken by women with very satisfactory results.

Plummer, Cadott state department commander. Mrs. R. B. Hart, Cumberland state president of the auxiliary also will participate in the ceremonies. The executive committee will hold its first meetings before the annual convention at the camp at that time. The convention will be held at La Crosse Aug. 27-28.

Forty World War veterans from Wisconsin are convalescing at the camp at the present time. Mr. Plummer said they are arrested cases of tuberculosis or suffering from slight mental or nervous diseases the commander added.

George Merkel formerly of Appleton is the supervisor of the camp which opened April 1 of the second year. The camp embraces 11 acres on Tomahawk Lake. Mississippi Tributaries Are Good "Muskie" Waters

B. A. CLAFIN
Not a week passes but what I receive and answer from six to a dozen letters from sportsmen all through the middle states. Mostly they come from people who are arranging for their first trip to northern Wisconsin's playgrounds. Some, however, who have visited the same region for several years, desire a change. Frequently from someone planning a pilgrimage for the first time there comes a request for information which is really amusing. Will you please tell me where to go for good bass fishing? Would prefer lake where I can catch both bass and trout. Or, please advise me where I can go to be sure of a muskellunge? These are two questions recently asked. The difficulty of answering them honestly is quite apparent to those of us who have made the rounds of our vast northern territory.

Then someone will ask "where is the best place to go fishing?" This also is somewhat difficult to answer when we do not know whether the party seeking the information desires to fish Muskies with a casting outfit or belpouts with a lake net. However, the inquirer is sincere and we do the best we can to help him out. And in Alaska? (Some say) are 1200 charted lakes to choose from.

Of late we have had several requests not only from outside of Wisconsin but from parties living within the state for directions as to good Musky waters. One peculiarity of this fish seems to be that he is found only in waters that are connected with the Mississippi River—and not in all of these. Most of our northern lakes which drain into the Wisconsin River have Muskies. The river has its source in Lac View Desert. Where it leaves the above lake it is a small stream perhaps 20 feet in width. Lac View Desert furnishes annually some of the finest specimens of Muskies taken anywhere. They are not the Tiger species as are caught in the Manitowish but they are of good size and have admirable fighting qualities.

Part of this large lake lies in Michigan but the boundary is well defined. ming with this Sunday evening the young peoples' meeting will take the form of a discussion group under the leadership of the pastor. This service is open to all but is especially for the young people. Come ready to talk and think things through. Bring your Bibles.

The flavor is just like fresh fruit itself. You will notice the difference. LNZO DEL.

so that no trouble is experienced on that score. The are seven big resorts on the lake accommodating from 20 to 75 guests and rates run from $25 per week up. Boats and guides cost about $6 per day extra but the guides are competent and if you have the necessary patience they are quite sure of putting you where you will get your Musky. There also are plenty of good places where those who prefer camping may locate to good advantage and thus avoid the expense attendant upon putting up at resorts.

Another feature in favor of this region is its proximity to the Ontonagon river which is an excellent stream for trout. Also fine catches of the speckled beauties can be made in Flamark Creek and in Maxmadow Creek with its several branches.

Some of the nearby lakes have landlocked salmon and others have lake trout. All in all it is one of the most prolific regions for diversified fishing to be found anywhere in the state.

LAUNDRYMEN FAVOR PAPERS
To be compelled while sitting in the theater to think of one's soiled linen at home is too much of a comedown. This is the expressed opinion of laundrymen in convention in New Mexico who disfavor the use of advertisements of their business on the motion picture screen. They think radio ads too a kind of cold shower. The laundrymen went on record as favoring straight newspaper advertising to get their wares before the public.

OLD INDIAN CEMETERY FOUND
Remains of old Indian burial grounds around Victoria harbor were stirred with the finding of two skulls and parts of other human remains in a pocket of soil on the barren crest of Coffin Island, connected by a foot-bridge with the land. The aborigines adopted the system of burying in trees as well as in shallow earthen mounds, the latter found in many burning grounds of the kind was that of Dead Man Island, completely burned over in 1850.

ELECTRIC SALE OFFERS CHANCE FOR NEW LIGHTS

Eliminate Old Gas and Electric Fixtures During Housecleaning

Spring time is housecleaning time and with housecleaning each year should come the weeding out of all old and obsolete equipment to make room for the newer and up to date appliances which help to make housekeeping a comfort and a pleasure. Appleton people have a golden opportunity to dispose of their old gas and electric fixtures and to secure new and up to date ones very reasonably if they will take advantage of the 30 day spring gas appliance sale which started at the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. Saturday.

The articles being specially featured in this sale are Universal Gas ranges, Lion hot water heaters and a new device called a Time-O-Stat which makes it possible to light the hot water heater from upstairs. At the Traction company sale a payment of 35 cents down will install any of these time and labor saving devices in a home. The purchaser has 15 months to pay off the balance and liberal allowance will be made for any old equipment turned in on the purchase. Oil, wood and gas ranges of all makes may be turned in.

The new Universal gas ranges are equipped with an automatic heat regulator. The housewife only has to set this regulator at the desired heat and her worries are at an end for this automatic temperature control eliminates all guess work in cooking. The range also is equipped with full porcelain finish, porcelain oven linings, automatic lighter simmering burner and white porcelain broiler pan. The beautiful porcelain exterior does away with the constant enameled which was necessary for the older style of ranges.

Lion gas hot water heaters are priced at only $24.95. Equipped with such modern appliance one does not have to shiver any cold remove any ashes during the entire summer. All that is necessary is to light the gas and the water is heated up in a hurry. And to make the Lion heater even more convenient the Time-O-Stat has been invented which makes it possible to light the heater from the bathroom and thus save any running up and down stairs.

Another popular article of household equipment on display at the Traction company retail department is the Hamilton Beach de-luxe vacuum sweeper, a perfect combination of motor brush action and powerful suction—the essentials of efficient cleaning. For people who want to buy the Hamilton Beach the Traction company has made the liberal offer of allowing $12.50 for old vacuum cleaners or $5 for old carpet sweepers.

BUILDING CONTRACTS ESTABLISH RECORD

Building and engineering contracts awarded in Wisconsin during April amounted to $17,452,900, according to F. W. Dodge corporation. The above figure was the highest on record for any April, being 3 per cent in excess of the April 1925 record. A gain of 88 per cent over March of this year is also to be noted.

New construction started in Wisconsin during the first four months of 1926 reached a total of $33,458,800, as compared with $26,525,900 for the corresponding period of last year, the increase being 26 per cent. The more important classes in last month's record for Wisconsin were: $6,447,700, or 37 per cent of all construction, for public works and utilities; $2,545,800, or 23 per cent, for industrial buildings; $2,892,700, or 17 per cent, for commercial buildings; $2,652,100, or 15 per cent, for residential buildings; $600,000, or 3 per cent, for religious and memorial buildings; and $438,500, or 2 per cent for educational buildings.

Florida Growing Rapidly But Land Boom Is Ended

Babson Park, Florida—When Roger W. Babson left for his northern home he gave his conclusion relative to the Florida Boom, so called. Mr. Babson insists that Florida is all right and that the "bubble" has not been "pricked" as so many claim, but he does frankly state that the "bubble" temporarily at least, has lost its magic charm and that speculation in Florida land does not exist.

SPECULATION AT AN END

"Florida is growing at a greater rate today than ever before in its history. 1926 will record, more new homes built, greater railroad earnings, larger check transactions, higher population figures, more land under cultivation, and increasing industrial activity compared with 1925. Yes, I will add that more property will be sold in 1926 for some sites, farms and industrial purposes than in any previous year. Florida is today growing at a greater rate than ever before. "It is true that speculation in Florida land is dead today. The man who denies it is not acquainted with the real situation. In most portions of Florida there simply is no such business as real estate sales for speculation. As a very large proportion of sales heretofore have been for speculation, the real estate market is now very quiet. Owing to the fact that there are now about 50 times as many real estate men (and women) to divide this business than heretofore, the decline in activity is even more apparent and is felt more keenly."

"But these things are nothing for the true friends of Florida to worry about. Three years ago, before the Florida boom started, the price of the 40 most active stocks on the New York Stock Exchange averaged about 70. These same stocks closed on December 31, 1925 at an average of over 135, nearly 100 per cent increase. Since then they have had a most severe decline, which many investors only too well realize. Those who read my article in the November Review of Reviews on Florida's future may remember that I stated speculation in Wall Street and speculation in Florida must go up and down together. Hence when asked how long will the Florida boom last, I replied: This present boom will last so long as this boom in Wall Street lasts. Both must subside together, both will for a while lay dormant together, and both will again revive and reach even greater heights and even greater profits. Both realtors and stock brokers who come into the game at the top get punished; but those who continue honestly at work during both good times and bad, do well and prosper. No business is always good. If so, everyone would go into it and it would die like the mastodons of old by its own weight."

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS

"The important situation in Florida is that 75 per cent of the lots which have been sold the past two years were sold to speculators who never intended to build or use them. Most of these lots have not been paid for and many never will be paid for. Thus far these speculators have held on and—although there are now very few sales or purchases of lots—there has thus far been no break in prices. If, however, these speculators are forced to sell in a market where there are no buyers, a tremendous break in prices will be witnessed. As the increase in prices has been most spectacular on the East coast, so it is natural that the decline in prices may be greatest there, although the decline on the East coast may be the most valuable of all portions."

The fact which, however, will make all Florida prosperous some day is the gradual growth of the Going-Away-Winters industry. After a person spends one winter in California or Florida, he or she is very likely to acquire the habit. When this habit is fixed it is hard to break as the habit of keeping an automobile. Moreover, what the parents now look upon as a luxury, the children will consider a necessity. The most profitable industries are those based upon "habits," both good and bad. Neither the telephone nor automobile is a necessity. People can live healthily, happily and prosperously without either. Yet after one once has had either a telephone or an automobile, in very few cases is it ever given up while the children consider these things absolute necessities. I firmly believe that going-away-winters will take hold of the nation in the same way, and that both California and Florida are developing a new but permanent industry. Moreover, owing to Florida's proximity to 80 per cent of the nation's population and wealth it will equal California and may ultimately out-strip this wonderful Pacific Coast State.

"Florida Needs People"
"Because Florida today has an over-production of lots, is no reflection on Florida. There always is an over-production of something in this wonderful country of ours. One year it is wheat, another year it is corn, another year oil, and another year sugar. This year for the first time since the breaking of the Northwest boom some years ago, we witness an over-production of subdivisions. Moreover, let me say that this applies to most of the cities of the country—and not alone to the cities of Florida. Now what does the producer of other commodities do when he is faced with an over-production? Why, he stops manufacturing for a while and lets consumption catch up to production. Hence, the first step for us today is to place a moratorium on outlying subdivisions, an Eighteenth Amendment against Blue Prints, and very drastic legislation against 50 foot lots in the wilderness. That will shut off the supply for a while. "But shutting off the supply for a while is not sufficient. The demand for Florida property must be increased by developing agriculture, industry and commerce. This can only be done best by getting people to work, live, or at least spend a part of the year in Florida. I'm especially impressed by the interest which Florida papers are taking in agriculture. It may be that the next Florida boom will be in agriculture, but if so, I hope such land will honestly be sold, so far as possible, sold only to those with the brains and capital to carry on. Florida's agricultural and dairy possibilities are beyond the fondest dreams. To make a living farming anywhere, however, today, requires ability and industry. The man who cannot succeed north, probably cannot succeed in Florida, whether he is a farmer or realtor. Speculation in farm lands will do Florida no more good than speculation in orange groves or 50 foot lots. Florida needs more people, both tourists and workers, and it needs them at once if it is to fill up with merchants and others. The stores and offices which soon may be vacated by realtors, farmers—however—should not go to Florida unless they have both ability and capital. Good farm lands in Florida either are expensive or they must be drained and irrigated. Florida will some day be the market garden of eastern America, but it will come about only through men of intelligence and experience."

Florida Growing Rapidly But Land Boom Is Ended

FLORIDA'S RESOURCES

"South Florida's greatest natural advantage is still her climate. South Florida's greatest source of income will for many years be from winter residents. Florida must supply the homes, clothing and food for these people. The growth from now on will not be in millionaires. Florida has already gathered about all of the wealth Florida's wealth from now on is largely coming from the middle classes and retired people of New England, New York, and Pennsylvania, from the merchants of the Great Lakes section, from the prosperous farmers of the Central West, and from the employees of industries and commerce throughout the nation. I was often asked, especially by the Studebaker people who were then making wagons, for saying I would live to see almost every prosperous farmer have an automobile. Today there are more automobiles owned by farmers than there are farmers! Permit me to make the prophecy that I shall live to see almost every prosperous farmer spend his winters in California or Florida. There are 2,000,000 farmers in the United States with net incomes in excess of $5,000 per year who have never been in California or Florida. If we can get 200,000 of these to journey to one of these states this coming winter in their automobiles and spend only $100 each for the best three months they have ever spent in their lives, this alone will amount to more than the total received from the entire citrus crop, tomato crop and celery crop, and all truck vegetables raised in the state of Florida."

"To attract more good people to either California or Florida, certain things are necessary. They demand: 1. Healthy living conditions. "With few exceptions all Florida and California cities now have this to offer. 2. Clean attractions and amusement. "The people who are to make Florida and California do not want wide open cities, Sunday celebrations or all night dances. Cleaner, better and the amusements which made St. Petersburg are what is wanted, together with good active churches. 3. Economical living conditions. "For the present there are enough expensive hotels in Florida and California. More dairy farms rather than more golf courses are the need of the hour. Old fashioned New England dinners with baked beans Saturday night and fish chowder Fridays, will attract more good people to these states than more billion dollar developments. These states today need producers and to attract them, such lower rents and lower cost living conditions are absolutely essential. "Business now rears its head in the Babson chart, at 3 per cent above normal which compares with just normal at this time last year." Copyright, 1926. Publishers Financial Bureau.

JOLSON SENDS ACTORS HOME, TAKES OVER SHOW

New York —(AP)—Al Jolson likes nothing better than a friendly audience and he's willing to take over a whole show to prove it. Coming on the stage late, having been to a movie with Mayor Walker, he apologized for not having had time to black up. His act went over so well, however, that when called back after the conclusion of his customary bill, he said: "You know there is more of this show to go on. But you've been good to me and I'll stay if you want me." Applause was the answer. "Well, what do you say to me finishing the show and letting the other folks back stage go home?" Everybody out front agreed, so Al joked and sang long past the usual curtain time.

GANZEN BELONGS TO ASSOCIATION OF ADVERTISERS

Tell the World With Signs. Is Slogan of National Organization

Tell the world with signs. This is the slogan of the National Outdoor Advertising association, which is observing national sign week May 10 to 17. Appleton is represented in society by Richard Ganzen, pioneer Appleton sign painter, who has his workshop at 317 W. College-ave. Sign work of every kind from the drawing of small show cards to the painting of huge outdoor billboards and bulletins and the manufacture of mammoth electric signs is done with an equal degree of skill and proficiency by workers in the Ganzen shop.

The National Outdoor Advertising Association, to which Mr. Ganzen belongs, is cooperating with state and county highway commissions, lovers of scenic beauty spots and others by rigidly inspecting billboards and bulletins along country roads and removing or changing the positions of those which obstruct the view on dangerous corners of the road and those which stand in the way of nature's beauty spots. Agents of the national concern are constantly touring the country making periodic bulletin inspections.

Mr. Ganzen's membership in the national outdoor advertisers from all over the country who also are enrolled in the organization.

Mr. Ganzen is one of Appleton's pioneer sign painters having started work here in 1900. Until last fall, he maintained his sign shop at his residence on 1030 W. Packard-st. Since he opened his shop in the downtown district his volume of business has increased well over 100 per cent. When Mr. Ganzen started in business here over 25 years ago the outdoor advertising enterprise was in its infancy, especially as it pertained to signs along the country roads. This was due to the fact that there were no automobiles and consequently so few people using highways compared to the vast number of motorists today. Roadside bulletins, too, the sign painter had only old Dobin to rely on and could not paint many country signboards in one day.

Even in the city the sign game was rather slow 25 years ago, as merchants did not seem to believe in street signs to advertise their wares. Their wares and their special sales. They expected people to seek them out and buy from them without any attractive display of advertising. Competition was not so keen and not many signs were needed. But conditions have changed greatly in the last quarter of a century so that now every up to date and progressive merchant believes firmly in the slogan, "tell the world with signs."

DESIGNER URGES GIRLS TO LEARN DRESSMAKING

Paris—(AP)—The finest calling for any woman is dressmaking, declares Madame Madeleine Vionnet, a Paris dressmaker famous as having been called the best dressed dressmaker in Paris and as being ruthless in prosecuting those who steal her ideas. "Dressmaking is the best paid calling a woman can follow, and it is a safe and sound business too," she said. "We no longer get the same class of apprentice that we used to. Since the war we have been appealing to the head school teachers to put the advantages of dressmaking before their pupils, with a satisfactory result."

ORIENT CASTS SUSPICIOUS EYE ON U. S. "PEACE"

"Dad" Elliot Says Far East
Can't Reconcile American
Talk and Action

"When we cannot understand we can have faith," said A. J. Elliott when he explained the oriental problem to delegates to the state student conference at their Friday afternoon meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel. Mr. Elliott, better known as "Dad" is one of the principal speakers brought here for the student conference which is being held on Lawrence campus this weekend.

Mr. Elliott explained by saying that the oriental finds it hard to accept American statements of peace and brotherhood in view of the immigration law, preparations for war, and the Pacific fleet. Dr. Natori, one of the most influential men in China, told the commoners gathered together at a meeting that although America and its ways were hard to understand, its professions of love and brotherhood should be accepted on faith.

The anti-Christian movement, which has arisen in the far east is not a protestation against the teachings of Jesus nor the basic principals of Christianity. The things it does oppose are race superiority, religion by force, western control of their international affairs, the intrusion of American industry and the general treatment accorded the oriental by the westerner.

Students of the world are the ones best suited to alter these conditions and to bring about better friendship between the nations. While visiting in China and Japan last year "Dad" Elliott gave the message of the American students to the Confederation of Foreign Students and received one from them in return.

The oriental students feel that youth has failed to accept its responsibilities in important decisions, but if students of the whole world will work together, the spirit of love can remedy conditions in industry, politics and international life.

Mr. Elliott is not a veteran traveler, but spent the greater part of last year studying the conditions of the east and their particular relation to student affairs. At present he is regional secretary for the student department of the National Council of the Y. C. A. of the Central Region.

The international banquet which will be held at 6:30 Saturday evening, is the biggest event still on the program. Sunday morning will be taken up with devotional services, and the conference will officially close with a speech by Dr. Bruce Curry at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

SUPREME COURT HEARS BOEHM APPEAL ARGUMENT

John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, was in Madison Saturday morning to represent the state in the Supreme court hearing of the appeal of Anton Boehm, Calumet Harbor, who was sentenced in municipal court here to a year in state prison at Waupun. In the trial here Boehm was found guilty of running down and seriously injuring Benjamin Beschta on July 11, 1925, and neglecting to aid the injured man. Briefs were filed at the Supreme court hearing by Krugmeier and Witmer, attorneys for Boehm.

An application for pardon for Boehm was heard by Governor Blair a few weeks ago. The governor took the application under advisement pending the Supreme court decision on the appeal.

RADIO RESTORES HER HEARING

Jean Williams of Los Angeles was born five years ago, a deaf mute. But now she can hear and talk. Radio did it. Ed Albright, announcer at station KNX, took the girl to the studio and put headphones on her ears. For the first time in her life she began to hear sounds. Then he began teaching her to talk—and in another year, it is said, her hearing and speech will be perfectly normal. He is shown holding her on his lap.

U. S. Spends Millions Each Year For Fake "Pink Pills"

BY ROY J. GIBBONS

NEA Service Writer
Chicago.—America's passion for eating pink pills cost a pretty penny during 1925.

Conservative estimates fix the sum at close to $250,000,000.

This, in round numbers, is what the public almost annually tosses into the laps of fake medicine vendors.

These charlatans have been dubbed the "hatchet men" of science.

NUMBERS ARE LEGION

According to Dr. Arthur J. Cramp, director of the bureau of investigation of the American Medical Association here and the most vigorous enemy the pink pill sellers have, their number is almost legion.

They flood the country with mostly useless and oftentimes dangerous nostrums guaranteed to cure, patch and fix every ill.

They kill, maim, lie and seemingly have no conscience. Their existence fosters the pernicious practice of self-medication on the part of their dupes.

And the law, with whose technicalities they are conversant, is not always able to reach them.

Just now the "hatchet men" are going in for making the fat lean and the lean fat. They give the public what it wants, in large doses, and at prices which bring the "hatchet men" 1000 per cent and more profit.

TREMENDOUS PROFITS

What probably would cost the purchaser but a few cents in its pure and simple form, if brought from the

150 GOING TO ROTARY MEETING

Body

Approximately 150 Rotarians and Rotary Anns are planning to attend the Tenth District Rotary conference at Green Bay May 18 and 19. Rotarians will form a parade, on Park-ave ready to leave at 8:15 Tuesday morning. About 30 cars will be in line. The group will be in Green Bay for the opening session at 9:30.

Large rosettes of blue and gold, the Rotary colors, will be used to decorate the cars.

Common sense in Rotary will be the subject of the opening address by District Governor Lee C. Rasey, Appleton, who will preside at the meetings which will be held in Columbus Community hall.

The Rev. Henry Gately of Appleton, former governor of the Sixth district of Rotary International; Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court; Congressman John T. Dagg and President Henry M. Wriston of Lawrence college are among the prominent speakers.

BOY INJURED BY CAR SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The condition of Ralph Boehm, 12-year-old son of Robert W. Boehm, R. R. 4 Appleton, who was struck by a car Wednesday evening was much improved Saturday and he was resting quietly.

The boy was thrown into the ditch by the car and was badly bruised about the head and received a severe laceration of his left leg. He complained of pains through his head and shoulder Thursday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital after the accident.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

One application for a marriage license was received Friday, and two were filed Saturday at the office of John F. Hantchel, county clerk. They were:

Floyd J. Carr, Milbank, S. D., and Margaret Kohl, route 3, Appleton.

George J. Kerr, 215 N. Meade-st., and Eleanor A. Lundt, Crandon.

Joseph M. VanHandel, route 1, Little Chute, and Catherine Bongers, Little Chute.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dusel and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dusel of Mahawa, visited Appleton friends Friday.

shelf of most any drug store, when purchased from the "hatchet men" costs anywhere from 1000 to 5000 times its original value.

What the purchaser really pays for, so Dr. Cramp who has been instrumental in showing up scores of fake medical concerns says, is the cost of advertising the product. This cost runs close to 70 per cent of the concern's gross income.

Recently Dr. Cramp and his associates brought to the attention of the government the activities of a concern in Chicago which had sprung into being shortly after the widespread publicity on monkey glands had made its effect on the public.

This concern, in one year's time by peddling its useless preparation through the mails, took in some $300,000.

The instance is typical. But no sooner is one fake barred from use of the mails than another springs up in a different section of the country to work fast and feverishly until stopped.

Even when brought to trial, many of the fakes produce witnesses in court who swear and honestly believe that the "hatchet man's" preparation has cured them or helped them.

"But," says Dr. Cramp, "These deluded persons do not know that the tendency of nature is usually toward cure and that they probably would have been well a good deal faster had they left the nostrums alone."

"Nostrums never cure the sick. But the sick get well in spite of them."

Dr. Cramp points out that many people believe that the federal Pure Food and Drugs act is all-sufficient to safeguard the people against unscrupulous nostrum peddlers. This is, but partly true, he says.

LAW IS HELPLESS

"This law gives only a minimum of protection. It permits the public to know the names and amounts of but eleven specific drugs contained in a bottle or package, and it limits the claims that can be made for these products so far as such claims appear in or on the trade package."

"But the law is helpless to prevent a nostrum manufacturer from advertising false claims in a newspaper or magazine. Neither can the law compel him to disclose poison in his preparation so long as the particular poison is not included in the list of eleven drugs that he is forced to admit he uses them."

"Under present construction, of the law there is an almost mathematically sure way of judging which claims regarding a 'patent medicine' are true and which are false."

"Simply subtract from the claims made in magazine and other periodical advertising the claims that are made in the trade package. The difference, you are justified in assuming, is falsehood."

DISCUSS RENTS PAID FOR ROAD MACHINES

Discussion of rental prices paid by the state to counties while the machinery of the latter is being used for repairing state highways occupied the greater portion of the time at Friday's meeting of county highway commissioners at Green Bay. O. C. Rollman, division engineer at whose office the meeting was held, addressed the commissioners who attended. Other matters concerning duties of highway commissioners also were considered. A. G. Brusewitz, Outagamie-co highway commissioner, attended the meeting.

STATE, COUNTY HIGHWAYS IN BETTER SHAPE

Few Soft Spots Still May Be Found in Some Highways,
Commissioner Says

Outagamie-co road conditions have improved somewhat during the past week, according to A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner. Most patrolmen in the county have been busy working down rough spots and patrolling roads generally.

Soft spots still may be found in places on gravelled state trunk highways, but these will disappear as soon as the frost is entirely out of the ground. Commissioner Brusewitz declared Thursday's rain had little effect upon county roads, except to settle the dust temporarily. All main roads in the county will be in good condition for Sunday travel, barring heavy rains.

All roads in counties of north-eastern Wisconsin are in fair condition, according to a report from O. C. Rollman, divisional engineer at Green Bay. Motorists may travel in comfort on all state and most county trunk roads in this section of the state.

Aside from an occasional "spongy" spot on gravelled state trunk roads, these roads are in good condition and are improving day by day. Soft spots will disappear as soon as all frost has left the ground. Mr. Rollman stated that in general, roads throughout Wisconsin are all fitted for travel, excluding those, of course, which are under construction or extensive reconstruction.

Hassman pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg. Lafayette Zeh, town of Greenville, was arrested Thursday afternoon on the charge of speeding at 30 miles an hour on S. Cherry-st. Zeh will appear in municipal court at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

'LITTLE PARIS MILLINERY'

"It's like going out on the Porch"

NO motor car built is as airy or open as the New-Day Jewett Sedan. You can see everywhere. Slender pillars of sturdy steel—replacing wider and weaker columns of wood—have completely eliminated the deadly "blind spot."

You'll notice the difference between other closed cars and the New-Day Jewett Sedan instantly—it's the difference between a stuffy living room and a pleasant sun parlor—it's like going out on the porch.

There's a tremendous factor of added safety in this New-Day Jewett's wider vision—but wide vision is only one of its many super-safety features. Paige-Hydraulic 4-Wheel brakes stop this car instantly, with a minimum of pressure. Acceleration is quick as thought—you can "turn around on a dime"—and slip easily into the smallest parking places.

An engine and chassis into which have been built the strength, sturdiness and performance of this New-Day Jewett costs much more—but the difference is apparent after the first few miles at the wheel. Buy on performance—for you can't get out of a car any more than has been built into it.

It will cost you nothing to drive this New-Day Jewett—and once you drive it, in direct competition with any other car in its class, you'll feel and know its many very evident superiorities.

The New-Day JEWETT SIX

ONLY THE NEW-DAY JEWETT SIX offers all these features:
Lightning-like acceleration—Paige-Hydraulic 4-wheel brakes—Abundant power and speed for any driving need—Easier steering, shifting and parking of any car built—Clearer vision—almost total elimination of the deadly "blind spot"—steel body—interior roominess equal to much longer cars—Paige quality throughout in materials and workmanship—And Jewett's lowest closed car price.

$995 for the Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, $1095, De Luxe Touring Car, $1095, Paige Hydraulic 4-Wheel Brakes without extra cost. I. O. S. Detroit, tax extra. You can buy on time payments through one of the most attractive plans ever offered.

So much for Smith's personal comfort and necessities. The same painstaking care is given his Cleveland automobile in order to make the ordeal as easy as possible for it every care would not be taken it would be humanly impossible to remain sufficiently awake for more than four consecutive days and nights to pilot an automobile through traffic.

The Cleveland car will be equipped with Miller halloon tires from the Appleton Tire shop and road shocks will be still more absorbed by Gabriel snubbers furnished by the Milhaupt Spring and Auto Co.

The combination of a Willard battery by the Appleton Battery and Ignition service and German Bosch spark plugs by the Exide Battery Co. insures continuous smooth operation of the motor. Appleton Battery and Ignition service also will furnish a special automobile horn and will test out the ignition system before the run is started.

Tested gasoline and tested motor oil from the DeSauter Oil Co. will be further assurance of smooth motor operation. The oil and gas will be picked up at the DeSauter filling station "right in the loop" while Smith slowly drives around the station. He will not be permitted to stop.

As a final precaution against accident or collapse arrangements have been made with the Sage-Bronson company to have its ambulance in constant readiness and accident, fire and liability insurance has been secured in the Aetna company, represented in Appleton by Daniel P. Steinberg.

Smith will spend most of Tuesday morning playing golf to put his nerves in condition for the afternoon ordeal. He will use Saracen clubs provided by the Basing Sport shop.

STATUTORY CASE IS POSTPONED BY BERG

Government Agrees to Place Markers on Dangerous Reef in Lake

Neenah — The entrance to the channel of the Neenah river is to be marked by red buoys at the east and west ends of the reef, according to information received from government authorities. The lights will be on the reef which runs along the south side of the channel leading from Lake Winnebago into the Fox river.

This reef has been a menace to boatowners, especially at night when the entrance could not be located in the dark. The reef is of solid rock about two feet under the surface of the water and extends about a half mile out into the lake from the main land. One light will be placed on the extreme eastern point of the ledge. The other will be placed about 50 feet from shore. By keeping these two lights to the left of the boat a safe entrance to the Neenah harbor will be assured.

PHOTOGRAPHS SHOW HARPOONING OF MONSTER WHALE

At night Evelyn Nair (left) and Vivian De Vaul draw applause as members of a musical comedy chorus in Los Angeles. But by day they're in dusty roads in a Los Angeles high school. Each is a sophomore.

Came spring, as the movies have it, and the perennial beauty contests. Here's the first, just by way of keeping the records straight. She's Miss Natsau, nee Dobbins, christened Jane, of Natsau, N. Y.

Forty-seven pounds was the weight of the old gent from Maine pictured above. He supplied enough meat for lobster salad for 20 persons. His arms were just about as long as that of the young lady shown tucking his ribs with a fork.

The famous police dog, star of many motion pictures, is having his portrait painted during his "run" of personal appearances in New York. John Cummings Chase, the artist, finds Rin-Tin-Tin a wholly obedient model.

A Lancaster (Pa.) man hurled a blazing can of kerosene out of doors. The can fell on "Whitefoot" and the cat ducked into a hay mow. Damage amounted to $5000, but the cat saved its life. Note its singed whiskers.

THE YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

BEGIN HERE TODAY
HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the disgrace. JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Milwaukee, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he finds Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy in Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Milwaukee and later is attacked by two men, but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, one night, see a man they both recognize—she as the man who got the stub, he as the one of his assailants. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, noticing with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks her engagement and writes Jimmy about it, but the office boy forgets to mail the letter.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. Her disappearance becomes a newspaper sensation. O'Day fills Jimmy's mind with new doubts by telling him he found a picture of Henry Rand in Olga's room.

Jimmy, walking with Barry, suddenly sees Kid Davis, a known intimate of Jensen, boarding a street car. He runs in pursuit, swings aboard the car. When Davis gets off, at the end of the line, Jimmy follows him through lonely streets and dismal fog. He sees Davis enter a house, and, after the door closes behind him, he approaches the house himself.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLVIII

Jimmy, a gloom-shrouded figure in the fog, his pulses racing madly—whether from fear or excitement he did not know—slowly approached the house where he had seen Kid Davis disappear.

He stood now just in front of it. A short flight of steps led up to the front door, another short flight down to the basement entrance.

It was the basement entrance which Davis had used and Jimmy made his cautious way down the steps. He stood just outside the door, his ear pressed against a panel. But he heard nothing and for just a brief second he debated whether to try the door and see if he could slip in unobserved and unseen.

But he had a change of mind. "Better look around first," and his voice, a low whisper, was eerie-like in the fog.

Again he was suddenly cold, his blood running chill. An involuntary shiver shook him as he stood in the basement entrance, trying to decide on some plan of action that would enable him to see inside the house without himself being discovered.

Fleeting memories came of boyhood nights before the fireside with thrilling detective fiction. Surely, he thought, none of it was more hair-raising or perilous than this—and this, strangely, was real life. It was impossible, and yet it was true.

He knew, instinctively, that inside this house was the secret to those mysterious warnings he had received; to Olga Maynard's fate; to Jensen's whereabouts; even to his father's murder.

"If only this place wasn't so far from nowhere," he complained. "Foolish to try anything alone. Even more foolish to take the time to get police out here. They might clear out."

He thought of running to the nearest house and asking for help. But the nearest house was a good quarter of a mile away and, besides, how was he to know whether it would be friend or foe living there? He climbed the stairs again and found himself at the front basement window. He peered at the darkness within, but saw nothing, and the silence was oppressive and fearful.

Slowly he made his way around to the side—the side whence he had seen the light shining down the road. The light was still there, casting a dull glow through a drawn shade. Jimmy bent down and looked.

He thought: "If anyone comes between the light and the window, I'll see his shadow."

He could detect a low murmur of voices, but they seemed far away. And no one moved between the light and the window. There was just that dim, unfriendly glow through the shade.

He strained forward, listening, and suddenly he thought he heard a voice rising on a note of anger. And while he listened, the voice ceased. There was a brief silence, and then from the room came the sound of a woman's scream.

He checked the cry that sprang to his own lips. The voice was Olga Maynard's.

He turned around helplessly. Should he run for assistance, or should he try to enter the house alone? Would it do any good? It seemed so foolish, and yet—God!—Olga had cried out for help. She needed him.

As if in answer to his question, the cry came again. This time it was not a scream, but a low moan. "God help us!" he cried. "I'm go-

Olga, his face brutal with drunkenness.

"Stop your sniffin'," he growled. He raised a heavy paw threateningly.

Jimmy stiffened. If he should strike her he would cast everything to the winds and rush blindly in. It was more than he could bear.

But Jensen changed his mind. His hand fell to his side and he shrugged, poured himself another drink.

"Go easy, Ike," said Davis. "Ain't had enough yet?"

"Aw shut up!" came from Jensen, thickly. "Y' make me sick."

Jimmy retreated slowly along the wall. He found himself again before the door that had opened in answer to Davis' knock. He was somehow not surprised to find that it turned. Davis had not locked the door behind him.

He stealthily turned the knob all the way, and then, with a silent prayer that the door swing open without a betraying squeak, he slowly pushed it open until there was enough space for him to push his body past.

Cautiously he closed it behind him, felt the latch click home with only a faint sound, and stood in semi-darkness in a hallway.

To his left, the door swung open, was an unlighted room. Jimmy judged that it might be a living room or, more probably, one of those old-fashioned basement "parlors."

Just ahead of him, and to his right, was a flight of stairs with thin carpet nearly worn through. And a little farther down the hall, and to his left, a door stood ajar, letting a broad beam of light sift into the darkness.

He judged it was the room through whose window he had first seen the light and outside which he had just been listening. He heard voices—a man's heavy bass, another man's voice, higher pitched.

He had heard that first one. It was Jensen. An he heard the labored, catchy breathing of a woman trying to suppress her sobs.

Then carefully, his hand supporting him against the wall, he tiptoed down the hall and peered into the room, taking pains to keep clear of the beam of light.

There, sitting in a chair, his back to the door, was Kid Davis. He had taken off his coat, but his cap still perched on the back of his head. Directly opposite Davis was Olga, likewise sitting in a chair. Her head was down on her breast. Jimmy could not be sure, but he thought her position indicated she was held in the chair, possibly by a rope around her arms.

And Jensen was standing. He held in his hand a heavy glass tumbler, half filled with whisky, or what Jimmy took for whisky. He drained it and set it down. He turned to the hall and lengthen fantastically on the carpet.

He stepped quickly into the friend-ly darkness of the front room. Should he swing the andiron as Jensen passed to go up the stairs? Swing at his head with all his might and then lean madly in at Davis?

He decided against it. There was that telephone call. He wanted to know who was calling—whom Jensen had referred to when he spoke of the "big fellow."

He stood where he was and let Jensen pass. He could have taken two short steps and reached out with his hand and touched him as he turned to mount the stairs. A sudden plan flashed through his mind as he saw Jensen's broad back moving upward.

He waited until the man had reached the floor above, heard him grunt "hello" into the phone, then, his muscles taut, his nerves tense, he softly tip-toed toward the lighted room.

Davis was still seated in the chair with his back to the door, his feet comfortably propped on the bare table. He was sipping slowly from the heavy tumbler that Jensen had been using.

As silently as a cat Jimmy moved. He could still hear Jensen's voice muffled by the distance, at the phone.

And now he stood framed in the doorway. There was Olga, her head drooping wearily. She was tied in the chair, Jimmy saw. He took one cautious step toward Davis and saw Olga suddenly look up, saw the frozen horror on her face as she be-held him.

And Davis—Davis saw it, too. He set the glass down on the table, slowly moved to turn his head.

And then Jimmy sprang forward, raising the hand that held the broken andiron.

IN FRENCH HOTELS
 Dancing Masters Say D
 Room Is No Place f
 "Circus Act"

Paris.—(AP)—Dancing masters of the largest hotels in the city of Nice have barred the Charleston from their floors because they feel the hotel dining room is no place for "circus act."

The Charleston was practically unknown on the Riviera until around-the-world cruisers began disembark devotees of the new dance. The dancing masters, despite evident dislike of the new dance, the loudly voiced disgust of their generation, could find no reason to excuse to interfere until an American woman fainted while dancing and to be carried from the floor.

One dancing master then banned the dance, stating that "it appears a most dangerous form of pleasure while others said "It is a gymnastic exercise, not an aesthetic exhibit."

Expect to Bag Many Fine
Specimens in Central Africa for Museum

London.—(AP)—Prince Charles of Belgium second son of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, is to be a member of a party now being organized in London for an ambitious big game hunt in Central Africa.

The jungles of the Tanganyika territory, the Belgian Congo and sources of the Nile will be scoured for specimens of rare animals, and the hunters hope to return with museum prizes rivaling the results of recent Roosevelt expedition into uplands of Central Asia. Efforts will be made to capture rare birds alive, while the motion picture camera will be freely used.

It is planned to have a group of American cowpunchers accompany the party to assist in roping and trapping animals. Large corrals will be built and animals rounded up and photographed at close quarters.

The party expects to leave England for Naimah in May and will travel through central Asia in two special six wheeled motor vehicles.

VESTA VICTORIA WILL RETURN TO MUSIC HALL

London.—(AP)—Vesta Victoria, emerged from long oblivion and announced her return to the music hall with an entirely new lot of songs. She married and lived for many years in retirement in the United States, and is at present living at Swiss Cottage in a London suburb, where she has a beautiful country home.

"My brother, Lawrence, Barclay, has done some new songs which strike me as being so funny that I can resist trying them on the public, country home or no country home," celebrated comedienne declared. "Some of my friends have urged me to go on singing 'Waitin' at the Church 'Til It's All Right in the Summer Time and other old successes. But it's a long time since the public has given me and I think it is best to give something new."

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO LESTIE PRESCOTT

My dear Lestie Prescott:
I hope you will pardon my intruding upon your visit with your friend Mrs. Burke, but you have heard, doubtless, from either Mr. Prescott or Mr. Whitney, that I, bearing by accident from your mother that you might be persuaded to dispose of your gorgeous pearls, would like much to buy the two longest strings of matched jewels, the bracelet with the diamond clasp and the large single pearl ring.
I am prepared to pay $500,000 for them. Of course, I know that they are worth much more but Mr. Whitney thought perhaps you might sell them for that price, particularly as he would like to buy the remainder of the jewels and give them to some charity.
To offer you a price for these jewels many seem very presumptuous to you who are not in the least in need of money and, although I hope that you would not misjudge in the least any suggestions I might make, surely I may be allowed to say I was very glad when Mr. Whitney told me he had suggested to you that you could create a trust fund with the money for your two boys.
You cannot conceive, dear Madame Lestie, how I would like to know that the money I have earned would be used for the education of your oldest son. I am sure if you conclude to let me have the pearls, in their ill-fated fix will be broken. In the first place, you will allow me to possess the most gorgeous jewels of any actress in pictures today. Think what that will mean to my publicity agent.
You will have given me a chance to believe that I am concerned in the welfare of your oldest son of whom I am an admirer only second to yours. You will have allowed Mr. Whitney to give an enormous sum to the philanthropic hospital with which he is concerned.
I am sure you will never regret it. Since I have been in Pittsburgh, I have seen a great deal of your children, my dear Mrs. Prescott, with the consent of your husband and your nurse, who showed me a letter from you saying that I could see them whenever I pleased and I want to thank you for giving me perhaps the greatest joy of all my life, for the time spent in their quiet playroom, listening to the rhapsodies of little Jack about his "beautiful motor" has brought both joy and grief to me.

Adventures Of The Twins

Tingaling and the Twins Find a Treasure
Yes sir! Whoever Joffy Goofy was, he had taken the pocketbook and the rent book and the pencil and departed.
And, although Mister Tingaling and the Twins saw queer little foot marks on the ground, they were afraid to follow them because the last letter had said, "If you follow me your hair will turn green!"
And nobody—not even a fairy landlord—wants that green hair!
"And here I thought I was going to make my fortune," wailed poor Mister Tingaling. "Instead of that I haven't a penny. The thirty-second day of the month is over and all my rent money is stolen."
"It's just a shame!" said kind Nancy. "Now you can't get a new spring hat or a new spring coat or anything, can you?"
"No, and my wife cannot get anything either," said the fairyman sadly.
Suddenly Nick whispered, "Sir! I think I hear voices. It sounds exactly like the Gazookums and Snitcher Snatch."
They listened carefully and then

Chicago.—Babe Ruth has come back with emphasis this season to kindle the pennant hopes of the Yankees. With his eleventh home run of the season the Yankees scored Tuesday to victory over Cleveland, 2 to 1, and boosted their first-place advantage over Washington to a full game. Babe is now up to the pace he set in 1921 to compile his record string of 59.

Washington lost to St. Louis 10 to 7. Ken Williams' fifth homer of the season figured in a Brown attack which lifted the team out of a slump. The Philadelphia Athletics Saturday are crowding Cleveland for fourth place as a result of their ninth-inning rally to win Friday from Chicago, 6-5.

Detroit rode rough-shod over Boston, 8 to 1. The victorious march of Brooklyn was checked at Pittsburgh. The Pirates held the National league leaders even, 5 to 5, in a seven-inning game ended by a downpour.

The crippled Giants who have lost the services of shortstop Jackson for two weeks as a result of injury took a drubbing from Cincinnati, 6 to 4. The Reds now are a few points from first place.

Canton, O.—Rory Gray, Lancaster, Pa., and Henry Lehard, Chicago, fought a draw (12).

VALLEY LEAGUE
BOSSES EXPECT
BETTER SEASON

President PreFontaine and Rival Managers Tell What
They Hope for This Year

BY C. L. PRE FONTAINE
Pres. Fox River Valley League
We are all set for the season of 1926 and waiting for the "umps" to call "play ball." The interest in the keenest it has ever been in the Fox River valley. In our loop home talent baseball is not new although it is Green Bay, Kimberly and Neenah it is the first time. At Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton the fans are enthusiastic over this brand of ball and are eagerly awaiting the opening games. The fans in the other cities are equally enthusiastic and waiting for their first taste of the sport.

Our umpires this year are men of experience and ability headed by Paul Herr, Brillon, the dean of umpires in the state. The other umpires who will work behind the plate in the games are Pete Lepine of Fond du Lac, Billy Reas of Oshkosh and Doc Kolb of Appleton. At Fond du Lac, Eddie Wenzlaff, a former Oshkosh pitcher, will umpire the bases. This work will be taken care of at Oshkosh by Harvey Pugh, who has been coaching college teams in Alabama and a former Normal school star. Billy Asmus will umpire bases at Neenah. Billy Block at Appleton. Anton Jensen at Kimberly and Jim Dobry at Green Bay. The officials will be uniformed in blue and will give the fans good snap, heat and ball.

I want to thank the businessmen, fans and friends of the clubs who have purchased tickets for the games and also the press for their loyal support of home talent ball.

BY C. O. BAETZ, APPLETON
I am glad that we are again in the Valley league. Our club last year had the name of being the scrappiest, yet best behaved team in the league and we are out to repeat. If we don't win the pennant we will be a thorn in the side of the team that does. Our field, Brandt park, is in readiness with a remodeled grandstand and additional bleachers. The fence has also been re-erected. It is the best team that Appleton ever had. The players are young, but smart.

BY BRUCE NOEL, OSHKOSH
Any time that Oshkosh is not out in front in baseball they sure have caught us napping. There is no question as to the ability of my local boys this year—they are "there." Home talent baseball is the greatest achievement in the Valley and 1926 will be a banner year for the circuit, and Oshkosh, particularly. Every Sunday is going to be "ladies' day" at our park. We want the fans to bring their entire families.

BY LOUIS PARIS, FOND DU LAC
Naturally, I feel that we have the best team in the league. Last year we gave the fans the best grade of baseball ever seen in Fond du Lac and we know they liked it by the manner in which they turned out for the games. We finished second, but we sure will fight for the pennant this year. That goes for myself and the entire team. In addition to our veterans we have a lot of promising new material.

Watch us.
BY JOE CLUSMAN, GREEN BAY
I can't say much. Home talent leagues are new to me, but home talent teams are not. They have been my favorites for years. We call our team a veteran one because we have played together several years—I think means anything. Yes, we have some new stars, too.

BY OSSIE COOK, KIMBERLY
We are glad to get in this league. Kimberly does things right. Just scan our list of players and look at the athletic stars we have. The fellows all love the game and play for all there is in it. They will take care of themselves in the race.

BY C. A. LARSON, NEENAH
There never was a real revival of interest in baseball in this city until this year when the fans in general enthused over home talent ball. Neenah is entirely "sold" on the idea. Ken competition is being a general thing. The other cities where it has been dead. The players are interested and will work hard in all their games. All we want is the support of the fans at the start.

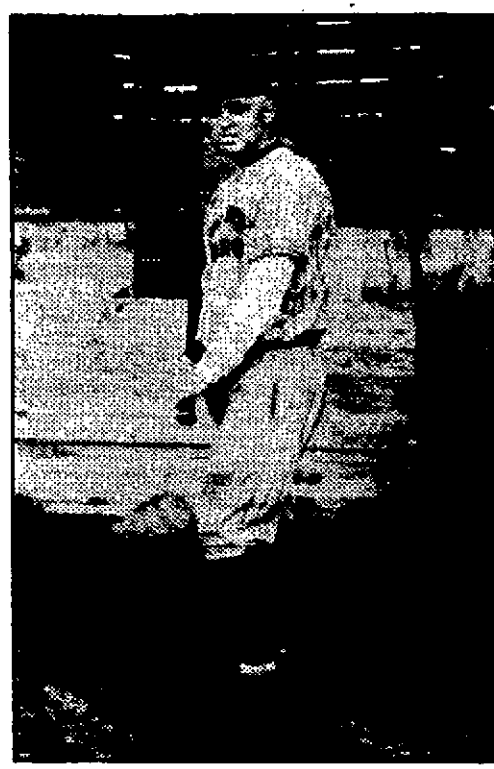

LEGION BALL TEAM
PRACTICES MONDAY

Stricken by the loss of at least five stars of the squad which took the 1925 city softball title, Manager Tom Smith of the American Legion team, is attempting to round out a strong crew for the hard competition of the 1926 Twilight loop. A practice will be held Monday or Tuesday, if the weather is bad on Monday. Because of the severe losses suffered by the Legionnaires, a large number are needed to play with the team to put a strong crew in the field. Manager Smith said, "Big losses to the Legion squad are Carlier, pitcher; Hartzell, first baseman; Starnard, shortstop; Bates, catcher, all of whom will play with the Post-Crescent squad, and Schabo, third baseman, who has given up the game this year. Carlier was the leading hurler in the Park loop, while Hartzell, Starnard, Bates and Schabo, are fine fielders and hefty sluggers."

Hollywood, Calif.—George Rivers, San Francisco, beat Johnny Shephard, Boston (10).

Des Moines, Ia.—Harry Stee, Quomac Hill, beat Paul Muller, St. Paul (9).

EXPECTS FINE BALL SEASON

MANAGER C. O. BAETZ

Appleton's baseball squad have one of the most successful seasons in years this summer. Manager C. O. Baetz said Saturday: "Our squad is as strong as any in the league. In fact I believe stronger than all except Kimberly." He said, "We have a group of men who have played together for two seasons and who know each other as a ball team should. Kimberly, perhaps, has a stronger team on paper, but it has a bunch of old timers, while our players are youngsters, at the height of the game. Then I believe we have a better balanced squad. Appleton, without too many bad breaks, should finish 12 this year."

Dempsey Expects Tough
Scrap From Either Foe

BY JOE WILLIAMS
Hendersonville, N. C.—When Jack Dempsey fought Jess Willard and won the heavyweight championship of the world at Toledo, July 4, 1919, Jack Kearns, the "Baron of the Ballyhoo," was in his corner.

In all his subsequent fights with the title involved, Kearns was in the champion's corner, lending what is known colloquially as moral support. In addition to sage managerial advice, for the first time since the Colorado genius of the steam shovel won the richest prize in pugilism, Kearns will not be in his corner when he fights his comeback battle for Tex Rickard next September.

They have come to an irrevocable parting of the ways. Kearns' participation in the proceedings, if any, will be that of a mild-mannered gentleman who either bought a ticket or received an "Annie Oakley" privilege. Replacing Kearns in point of authority in the corner that night will be Gus Wilson, the Belgian, who is here supervising the training of the champion. Until recently Wilson was the head trainer of Georges Carpentier.

STIRBLING WINS

Crack Georgian, With 15-

Strong Foe from Start of Bout

New York — (AP) — The state of Georgia, which already boasts one newly crowned pugilistic champion in the Negro middleweight title holder, Tiger Flowers, Saturday had a potential lightweight king in W. L. (Young) Stribling.

Friday night in Madison square garden Stribling yielded a 15½ pound handicap to Johnny Riskio of Cleveland and then vanquished the conqueror of Paul Berlenbach with a dazzling attack which twice had Riskio groggy.

Riskio stood up gamely for the ten rounds but only in the last did he make any impression of the Georgian defense. The award of the judges to Stribling was favorably received and the smiling victor was greeted by "Ma" and his young bride with hugs and kisses as he climbed from the ring.

Stribling will meet the lightweight champion, Berlenbach, on June 10 for the title.

Stribling, from seven rounds, his advantage in the fifth and seventh being pronounced. Smashing rights to the jaw had Riskio groggy in these sessions.

The weights were: "Stribling 174½; Riskio 160. Herbie Stribling, younger brother of William L. founded Joe Street of New York in a six round preliminary. Herbie, a lightweight, felled his opponent twice in the fifth round.

VETERAN COBB STILL ABLE TO CLOUT AGATE
By Cobb, veteran Detroit player-manager, looks better than ever this spring. Kept out of the early games due to an ailing optic, the Georgian broke into the lineup with a vengeance. In his debut game he beat out a single double and triple, and since then has been pounding the agate to all corners of the lot.

DENNYMEN MEET
CRIPPLED GOLD
TRACKMEN TODAY

State Line School, With Nesbit Out, Expected to Be Easy for Lawrence Squad

Sixteen members of the Lawrence college track and field squad led by Captain Robert Stair, and Assistant Coach Fred Tresize, battled Beloit college trackmen Saturday afternoon at Beloit in a Midwest conference dual meet. The squad left Appleton Friday noon, making the trip by special bus. Friday night the men stopped overnight at Janesville and a short practice and limbering up was held early in the evening at Janesville high school field. Men making the trip were Capt. Stair, Don Hyde, Doug Hyde, Kingsbury, Purvis, Purvis, Royen, Nason, Nobles, Humphrey, Fischl, Menning, Hupphrey and Fischl in the half mile; Purvis, Kingsbury and Pifer in the mile; Purvis and Kingsbury in the two-mile; Bayer and Rohan in the high hurdles; the Hydes in the low hurdles; Stair in the high jump; Stair, Nason and Humphrey in the broad jump; Nason in the pole vault; Kingsbury, Artz and Heideman in the discus and shot; and Hupphrey, Artz and Heideman in the javelin. Stair, the Hydes and Nobles will run the relay.

The biggest competition of the meet is expected to be in the weights where Wally Hastings, Gold three-lettermen, and VanDol, hit a strong Lawrence trio in Heideman, Artz and Hupphrey. The Golden have won their events in two dual meets this year with a pair of the best squads in the Midwest conference as opponents, while the Blue winners, have had little real competition.

Another close and exciting contest was stopped when Capt. Paul Nesbit, Beloit's Midwest conference champ in the sprints, pulled a tendon this week. He was carded to beat Capt. Stair, state title holder in race races in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and now the Blue leader should be with a lame leg. Nesbit and Williams of St. Louis trailed the Babe in his own league with four apiece. Jacques Fournier of Brooklyn ran up a total of five in National games despite injuries with Williams of the Phillies close behind him with four.

The trek across the Appalachians for the first intercollegiate games had no appreciable effect on the hitting, individually or by team. The Chicago Cubs came through the opening month's battles to share the league-leading average of .285 with the Reds. Cincinnati having nosed the Giants out at the last minute. The Yankees continue not only to top the American with their club hitting of .286 but set the pace for the majors as well. Chicago finished the first three weeks with a percentage of .231 to place second, with Washington third on a rating of .222.

McGraw of Brooklyn and Quinn of Philadelphia's team in the American fared best among the pitchers during the first month, each winning four games and being credited with no losses. The remarkable flinging record of Jess Petty, also of the Reds, was ended by Chicago after four games and being credited with no losses.

For the race of a mile and a quarter and carrying an added purse of $50,000 and a gold cup, the overnight entries are Pompey and Bubbling Over, favorite and second choice, respectively. The other fifteen, any one of whom might come through the race to be a national favorite.

Root to Root, Light Carbure, Rockman, Ragenhaggar, Take a Chance, Blonidin, Champ De Mars, Espino, Reconciliation, Canter, Display, Bolton, Rasuli, Rhinock and Ruyroffter.

At historic Churchill Downs, with its fifty years of glorious turf history, the thoroughbreds waited, carefully guarded and tended, for the brief race to fame for one of America's thrills to thousands of spectators from all over the country.

Indications were for perfect weather and crack conditions Saturday instead of the lowering skies that turned forth a literal deluge of water last year.

In the old days the Derby belonged to Kentuckians only, but Saturday, as in recent years since the Derby has become a national institution, the old city of Louisville became a mecca for thousands.

The eyes of those from the east were focused on Pompey, the two year old champion of 1925, now primed to ascend the throne of three-year-olds. He was installed overnight as the favorite at the probable odds of five to two. Western hopes were pinned on the entries of E. R. Bradley, Bubbling Over, Ragenhaggar and Root to Root, second choice at 2 to 1.

Nowhere in all its long history has such a representative field been entered for the derby. In addition to Pompey and Bubbling Over, Rockman, Blonidin, Espino Rhinock, Canter and Display are strong contenders. But in the face of this field of sterling runners, the winner may come from among the unknown or the ones neglected in the betting.

The "long shots" now are Light Carbure, Take a Chance, Champ De Mars, Reconciliation, Bolton, Rasuli and Ruyroffter.

The general consensus of the turf writers here from many parts of the country is that the race will be between Pompey and Bubbling Over. Both are about as fast as animals can be made and their turf dues should prove to be the case, would go down in history as one of the famous races of all time.

Chick Suggs, New Bedford, scored a technical knockout over Johnny Brown, English bantamweight champion (5).

Southworth of Giants Leads Batters With .442 Mark;
Dugan High in A. L. With

Chicago — (AP) — With the major league seasons more than a month old, the hitting records begin to mean something.

Southworth of the Giants finished the first four weeks of pennant chasing with a batting average of .442 to set the pace for the big-time regulars with Joe Dugan of the Yankees leading the individual hitting in the American with a .423 percentage. Dugan finished the 1925 season with .392, a bit ahead of Southworth's .2917.

Bressler of the Reds, Stuffy Minnis of the Pirates, Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis, Kelly of the Giants, Curt Walker of Cincinnati and Frisch of the Giants are at present holding pretty close to the posts they claimed when last year's schedule ended.

Among American League hitters, Goelitz of Washington, Meusel and Ruth of the Yankees, the veteran Cobb, Simmons of the Athletics, Mostil of Chicago, Burns of Cleveland and Lamar of Philadelphia are in familiar places near the top of the averages column, with Simmons the only one in the group not slugging beyond his season percentage of .325.

National players have shown the way in base stealing, records including performances in last Wednesday's games show, with Cuyler living up to his Pirate name with seven steals during the first four weeks. Frisch and Mueller trailed him among National players with six and five each, respectively. Rise of the Senators proved a total drop in the other circuit, with a lot of five stolen sacks.

Babe Ruth has apparently tired of merely being among those present in the home run slugging list and has stepped to the front by a wide margin, with eight circuit drives the first month, and that total after a belated start. Goelitz, Cobb, Meusel and Williams of St. Louis trailed the Babe in his own league with four apiece. Jacques Fournier of Brooklyn ran up a total of five in National games despite injuries with Williams of the Phillies close behind him with four.

JIM BARNES—GETTING VALUE OF LESSON
The reason for a fault in appearing after a lesson is that while you are taking the lesson you are concentrating on the proper method for correcting your fault, but when you start out to play a match, you lose sight of these special instructions. In other words, you will get little benefit from lessons unless you take the time to practice with them until you are fully accustomed to the new way of playing the stroke.

So far as the act of swinging the club is concerned, you cannot hope to play consistently well until this becomes practically force of habit.

In other words, if you have to stop to think of doing several details while making the stroke, you may be sure that the result will be failure.

Work of this kind must have been attended to before, hand, so that when you start the club-head back, all you need to do is to think of hitting the ball. Spend time after the next lesson in practicing, not playing.

THEY WOKE UP BUT THEY WEREN'T HURT

This is a what a home in Beaumont (Tex.) looked like after a tornado struck the city. Two people were sleeping in a front room of this house and were unhurt, although the chimney fell through the roof and dropped bricks all around their bed.

WANT ARTISTS TO PAINT FLAPPERS

Dress of Modern Girls Is Hindrance to Artistic Painting

London —(P)—Why don't artists paint "Miss 1926?"

This question is raised by E. Easton Taylor in London Evening News and has appeared repeatedly in other journals within the last few months.

Galleries, where modern paintings are shown, display few pictures of girls in the latest fashions.

Several portraits of young women in scant modern gowns have provoked considerable comment, most of it unfavorable, in spite of the excellent reputation of the painters who tried to make the modern flapper into a masterpiece.

Older painters for the most part, modern fashions are so inartistic it isn't possible to make a discriminating public accept them on canvas.

HEN LAYS EGGS TWICE SIZE OF OTHER CHICKENS

Tifton, Georgia—(P)—Byron Southwell, manager of the Agricultural and Mechanical Hatchery, has a hen that, in six "layings," produces the equivalent of one dozen eggs.

Each contains two yolks, and measures 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 inches in oval circumference. Southwell is endeavoring to evolve a breed of fowl that will produce similar eggs.

CALF IS HER PONY
East Wakefield, N. H.—Winnifred Payne, age 12, has a bull calf which she hitches to a two wheeled pony cart. The calf wears harness nicely and doesn't mind the saddle.

FOR HER SERVICES
Berlin—Frau Emma Trondheim sued George Neuman for breach of promise here, demanding compensation for the evenings she had given up to entertaining him.

Older painters for the most part, modern fashions are so inartistic it isn't possible to make a discriminating public accept them on canvas.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

It took more than the ordinary amount of courage for Miss Anne Brown, Ada (Okl.) school teacher, to bob her hair. Her brown locks reached clear to the floor—but she finally had 'em cut short. Inset shows how she looked after it was all over.

SKYLINE OF CITY

HIDES ROMANCE OF OLD HOUSES

Places of Tradition and Adventure Forgotten in Day's Hurry

New York—(P)—Hidden and almost forgotten behind the vaunted skyline of New York is a score of old homes that are steeped in tradition, romance, intrigue and adventure.

Amid the tinsel and glitter of Fifth Avenue commercialism at Ninth street, stands the old Brevoort home, a rugged monument to an old dull gold romance. Its halls, now occupied by a private family, also are peopled with specters of a dim, half forgotten past; its story, throbbing in human interest, now relegated to files of dusty, old newspapers or, weighty, unread tomes at the library. It was the scene of the first masked ball ever held in New York.

That was a night of nights on February 24, 1840, when society turned out en masse for the "important" amusement, as the newspapers of the day described it. Matilda Barclay, debutante daughter of Anthony Barclay, the British consul, had given her heart to a young man from South Carolina named Burgwynne. Despite the objections of her parents, she attended the ball with him. They were dressed as two characters from "Lalla Rookh," a then popular opus by Thomas Moore, the Irish poet. At 4 o'clock in the morning when the festivities were at their height, the lovers slipped away and were married while still in their costumes. A scandal resulted which caused society to ban masquerade balls for many years.

Estelle Ann Lewis, the poet, whom Poe called "the rival of Sappho," and whom Lamartine described as "the female Petrarch," lived in the house which still stands at 125 Dean street. Here Mrs. Lewis held salon from 1824 to 1840, her visitors including Washington Irving, John Cooper, N. P. Willis and a young poet named William Cullen Bryant, who came there to recite his new poem "Thanatopsis." It was said that Poe first read his poem "The Raven" at Mrs. Lewis' home.

A few doors away is the old house at 195 Dean street, where the noted southern poet, Sidney Lanier, lived in 1874-75.

Equally as interesting, but more exploited, is the old Morris Jumel house at 160th street and Jumel place, which was for more than half a century the social center of colonial New York. Built in 1765 by Lieut. Roger Morris, it became the headquarters of Gen. Washington during the battle of Red Bank. After the battle of Long Island it was confiscated because of Morris' sympathy for the Tories. In 1810 it became the home of Stephen Jumel, "La French" wine merchant, whose widow married Aaron Burr in 1833, a year after her first husband's death.

Occasionally, Tod Browning, director of Lon Chaney's pictures, is confronted with an actress who wants to cry but finds the tears will not respond. "Then he does a bit of fine acting in giving her a severe scolding. Chaney quietly offers a few words of comfort and the resultant wave of self pity frequently brings forth the 'mooches'."

D. W. Griffith vigorously rehearses his players. Before beginning camera work on his latest picture he tows his cast to a Times Square clubhouse where he spent many days in rehearsing each member.

Millard Webb, who directed John Barrymore in "The Sea Beast," also is a strong believer in rehearsals, but once a scene is being shot his voice is heard only when direction is necessary.

In contrast, Albert Parker, director of Douglas Fairbanks, believes: best results are obtained from the natural interpretation of the actor once a scene has been outlined. This insures spontaneity and freshness in his opinion.

James Cruze follows somewhat the same line of procedure. So does Edward Sutherland, who is making W. C. Field's comedies. He gives the comedian full rein to exercise his inventive ness in evolving "gags" and other humorous material as the scenes progress.

Ernst Lubitch not only explains his interpretations of scenes but steps in an enacts each role himself.

In Yonkers stands the original stone manor house of Frederick Philipse, "the richest man in New Amsterdam." Here upon an estate of several thousand acres granted him by King William and Queen Mary in 1683, Philipse built the house in which years later his daughter, Mary, was wooed by a young civil engineer named George Washington. She married Roger Morris the Tory, and went to live with him in the Morris-Jumel house.

Of the multitudes who pass the northwest corner of Duane street and Broadway every day, few know that it is the site of John Anderson's cigar store. It was the tragic murder of his sales girl, Mary Rogers, who was an intimate friend of Washington Irving, Edgar Allan Poe and Fenimore Cooper, that inspired the theme for Poe's tale of "The Mystery of Marie Roget."

At 81 Jane street a modern apartment house marks the site of William Baynard's country home where on July 11, 1840, Alexander Hamilton died following his famous duel with Aaron Burr at Weehawken, N. J., just across the river.

RICH CLOTHES HELP ACTRESS FEEL PART
Hollywood—(P)—Motion picture producers believe that an actress can not assume the necessary poise and feeling of assurance unless she knows that she is clothed in accordance with the environment pictured.

John McCormick, general manager of First National's Coast unit, had examined every possibility of a huge saving in production cost by using less expensive materials for dresses. However, he was amazed at an expenditure of nearly $100,000 for gowns alone on one fashion revue, and was well satisfied.

"You might say it was foolish to spend that amount on gowns that were worn only for one picture," he says, "but we have surveyed the matter from all angles and because of the hard use movie gowns are put to, we consider it a saving to buy good materials in the first place. Any other reason would give actresses a feeling of indecision."

GOVERNMENT OF STATE COSTS US $9 PER CAPITA

Revenue Receipts for 1925
Were $36,502,615 or $13
Per Capita

Madison—(P)—State government cost Wisconsin $26,351,205 or $9.47 per capita, during the past fiscal year, the department of commerce at Washington announced.

Revenue receipts for 1925 were $36,502,615, or $13.10 per capita, the department reported, the surplus of $4,609,882 more than the total payments being reflected mainly in the purchase of investments by public trust funds, and the increase in cash balances.

The net indebtedness on June 30, 1925, was $1,863,700 or only 67 cents per capita. In 1924 the per capita debt was 71 cents and in 1918, 75 cents.

The commerce department stated: "The payment of $26,351,205 for maintenance and operation of the general departments of Wisconsin for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, includes $4,609,883 appropriations for education to the minor civil divisions of the state. In 1924 the comparative per capita for maintenance and operation of the general departments was $9.20 and in 1918, $6.04. The interest on debt amounted to $1,374,459 and outlays for permanent improvements $5,480,065. The total payments therefore, for expenses of general departments, interest, and outlays were $31,988,732. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bonds or issues.

"Of the governmental costs reported above, $3,098,956 was for highway, $3,581,472 for maintenance and $3,515,484 for construction.

"Property and special taxes represented 51.8 per cent of the total revenue for 1925, 53.1 per cent for 1924, and 62.5 per cent for 1918. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 76.6 percent from 1918 to 1924, but there was a decrease of 5.3 per cent from 1924 to 1925. The per capita property and special taxes were $6.79 in 1925, $7.25 in 1924 and $4.40 in 1918.

SOCIETY WOMEN START BIBLICAL CHARADE FAD

London—(P)—Society women have started a "Biblical charade" craze for their afternoon and evening parties, and the practice is growing among the younger set. The Bible provides many incidents capable of being turned into charades, but some of the more extreme Mayfair youngsters are said to have shocked even their blase elders with the subjects chosen.

STUMP BLASTING SHAKES AND WAKES WHOLE CITY

Almost the entire city was awakened early Saturday morning by terrific explosions of dynamite. The explosions were used to blast out stumps and obstructions on S. The blasting was done early in the morning because there would be little or no traffic at that time.

States Duty to Keep Order-Coolidge anything more likely to enhance the progress of our country than united political action in all parts of the nation in accord with the advice of Washington for the support and maintenance of those principles of sound economics and stable constitutional government in which they so substantially agree. To attempt to proceed upon any other theory can only end in disaster. No policy can ever be a success which does not contemplate this as one country.

"The principle that those who think alike ought to be able to act alike wherever they happen to be should be supported by another principle, the continuation of our republic. The general acceptance of our institutions proceeds on the theory that they have been adopted by the action of a majority. It is obvious that if those who hold to the same ideals of government fail to agree the chances very strongly favor a rule by a minority.

DEPEND ON STATE FOR ORDER
"If the Federal government should go out of existence, the common rule of people would not detect the difference in the affairs of their daily life for a considerable length of time. But if the authority of the states were struck down disorder approaching chaos would be upon us within 24 hours. Of all forms of government, those administered by bureaus are the least susceptible to an enlightening and progressive body of public opinion. If they become autocratic, and being autocratic they resist all development. Unless bureaucracy is constantly resisted it breaks down representative government and overwhelms democracy. It is the one element in our institutions that sets up the pretense of having authority over everybody and being responsible to nobody.

The states should not be induced by or for favor to surrender the management of their own affairs. The Federal government ought to resist the tendency to be loaded up with duties which the states should perform. It does not follow that because something ought to be done the national government ought to do it. But on the other hand, when the great body of public opinion of the nation requires action the states ought to understand that unless they are responsive to such sentiment the national authority will be compelled to intervene.

"The doctrine of state rights is not a privilege to continue in wrong doing but a privilege to be free from interference in well-doing."

RADIO CONQUERS FORMER ENEMIES

Microphone Now Used by Actors, Singers, Publishers and Athletes

New York—(P)—Within the past sixteen months, radio, king of the air, has greatly extended the boundaries of a vast domain into several territories where support once was lacking.

It was only in January of last year that John McCormick, tenor and Lucerna Boni, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sang in Station WEA-F to an invisible audience estimated from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 persons.

A few of the biggest theatrical successes played to capacity houses that night, but many of the other plays were confronted with rows of empty seats. Persons connected with the theaters were unanimous in their conviction that radio largely was responsible.

"Radio constitutes the greatest menace the theater ever faced," William A. Brady, the producer, then declared. From Frank Gilmore, executive secretary of the Actors' Equity Association, came the word that the organization considered radio a "terrible menace to the actor."

"Mr. Brady feels there are certain types of plays very adaptable to broad casting," his representative said. "In these instances, he believes the results obtained through the entertainment of radio listeners, interest in the plays and resulting attendance at the theater are good. Where productions are not suitable for broadcasting, he, of course, is opposed to such presentation."

A willingness to drop the adjective "terrible" from "menace" was expressed by Mr. Gilmore, who said the Equity has no opposition to its members broadcasting any play in which they are appearing, providing they are given extra reimbursement of an eighth of their regular salaries. If a member wants to make a personal appearance before the microphone he may do so without remuneration, if such is his desire.

Other producers have duplicated Mr. Brady's broadcasting of plays. Morris Gest, who permitted "The Miracle" to be sent out through the ether, recently approved a similar presentation of "Carmenita and the Soldier." The Shuberts' troupe "The Student Prince" on the air and then followed with "Princess Flavia."

Numerous stage stars are making personal appearances before the microphone. What has followed as a result of broadcasting by McCormick and Boni now is an old story. This year, they repeated their performance. Marion Talley, and Mary Lewis, the two best American members of the Metropolitan have joined many others of their group who have broadcast.

Warner Brothers the motion picture organization, first built a broadcasting station for its western studio and then constructed another in New York. In addition to other features of these programs, film plays often

STARS COME FROM ALL OVER GLOBE

Every Corner of the Earth
Has a Representative in the Metro Studio

Culver City, Calif.—(P)—The sun never sets on the birthplaces of American movie stars.

Whether to portray languorous atmospheres of old Madrid or the frozen wastes of northern Russia, the movies must have the temperaments of those lands, and so they have drawn artists, stars, directors and leading men and women from all over the world.

At one studio alone, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in this city, there are persons from every part of the globe.

Call for Latin blood and they will point to Ramon Novarro, whose birthplace is Mexico City.

France is chiefly represented by Renee Adoree, while England has its film empress in Mme. Elinor Glyn. Traveling Scandinavia-ward, come the names of Greta Garbo, Mauritz Stiller, Lars Hanson and Victor Seastrom for Sweden, and those of Benjamin Christanson and Karl Dane for Denmark.

Norma Shearer comes from Canada, and Mae Busch and Katherine Bennett from Australia.

Scotland's Burr may also be heard whenever George K. Arthur is present, and a trace of Ireland's unmistakable brogue still remains with Owen Moore and Rex Ingram.

Neither is Italy overlooked. Her newest contribution to directorial genius is Marcel De Sano.

Kansas is Buster Keaton's state. The same state also produced Leo Abrams, who directed the late Sarah Bernhardt in her first motion picture. This state also is the birthplace of Claire Windsor and Zasu Pitts.

Washington, D. C., supplied Monte Bell, Christy Cabanne, the director hails from Ohio, while King Vidor is from Texas and Tod Browning from Kentucky.

Lillian Gish is an Ohioan, John Gilbert comes from Utah, and Marion Davies and Kathleen Key from New York. Sally O'Neill is from the neighbor state of New Jersey and Eleanor Boardman from Pennsylvania.

The other movie companies also make use of the microphone and many stations have a regular feature reviews of pictures and news about the plays and stars. Just before the opening of his last picture in New York recently Douglas Fairbanks gave an interview at WJZ on a lineup with several other stations.

After a book had been reviewed over the radio of a western station, the sales at the bookstores the following day showed a marked advance. R. T. Bond, of Dodd Mead and Company reported.

From Scotland comes a dispatch to the effect "broadcasting appears to have increased rather than diminished the number of book readers." Virtually all American publishers have stated they have no fear of radio.

SILVER QUEEN TRAVELS 50,000 MILES YEARLY

Honolulu—(P)—Fifty thousand miles yearly for a quarter century has been the average travel record of Mrs. Suzanne Emery-Holmes, the "Silver Queen" of Utah, she declared, claiming to have traveled about 1,500,000 miles since 1900.

"But that's not far," she said. "That's only twice around the world every twelve months. Sometimes I dash over to Europe several times a year—or I may go to Egypt, or South Africa—or anywhere fancy calls."

"In recent years, though, my hobby has been my home in Pasadena. I am trying to make it different and I am accomplishing this from the ideas I have gained while going over the world."

Mrs. Emery-Holmes, owner of the Holmes silver mines in Utah, is reputed one of the wealthiest women of the world.

BARRIE ORIGINATED NUMEROUS WITTICISMS

With the return of Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" to Broadway, a new generation of theatre-goers is learning the origin of a number of witticisms with which they are better acquainted than the author.

"Eve wasn't made from Adam's rib," says Helen Hayes, as Barrie's dear little "Maggie," "but from his funny bone."

From "Maggie" the theatregoers of a generation ago also derived their definition of "charm," as "a kind of a bloom about a woman. If she has it, she doesn't need anything else. If she hasn't it doesn't matter what else she has, the things she wants most will always pass her by."

MOTORS FALL TO NEW LOW RECORD

Hammer Hudson Down More
Than Four Points on Market Today

New York—(P)—Renewal of selling pressure against the motor shares, several of which collapsed to new low levels for the year featured Saturday's irregularly lower stock market. Owing to the absence of many large operators who went to Louisville, Ky., to witness the derby, trading was in small volume, the day's sales aggregating about 425,000 shares. Hudson bore the brunt of the selling in the motor group, being hammered down more than four points to a new low at 57 1/2.

Weakness developed in a number of specialties.

Rails held relative firm with a good demand noted for some of the southern carriers, particularly Atlantic Coast Line. The closing was heavy.
